DISTRICT LAW OFFICIALS SET PINBALL DEADLINE

Hunt Continues For Slayer In Warren Area

Volunteer Possemen Too Numerous; Sheriff Regroups Search Units

WARREN (AP) — The search for triple killer Alfred Wilson was continuing doggedly here today, but the manpower involved was cut sharply.

So many volunteers turned out last night in answer to a radio report Wilson was sighted 12 miles northwest of here, the possemen were getting in one another's way.

Traffic was snarled and some police cars found it difficult to move through the crowds.

Trumbull County Sheriff T. Herbert Thomas watched the operation proceed for about two hours then called off the mass hunt and said it would be the last such effort. He said he had to do that "before someone gets shot by mistake."

Later, deputies met in Leavittsburg and reorganized on a smaller scale with close liaison. That will be the way the future search will be conducted if Sheriff Thomas has his way — with a group of about 25.

* * *

"WE WILL HUNT steadily for Wilson, but we will do it with men under our control," Thomas said. "No volunteers should turn out unless someone in authority asks them. We will let the people know if we need them."

Last night's big effort was inspired by a report from Trumbull Deputy Sheriff John Profato that he saw Wilson leaving a barn near Braceville about 5 p. m.

Authorities believe he still is in the area, although the hunt has expanded across state lines.

The State Highway Patrol launched an intensive manhunt in the Mount Blanchard area southeast of Findlay early today after a man resembling the triple killer was seen in a restaurant.

The patrol said ten cars and 15 men were sent to the area.

Speakman Warns Street Dumpers

Service Department Head Says Illegal Habit Now 'Out Of Hand'

City Service Director Dewey Speakman today declared that his department has "finally had enough" of those residents who "dump their rubbish into the street and then complain because we don't collect it."

Speakman said the violation, tolerated off and on for many years in the community, is found "almost anywhere you want to go in Circleville." He stressed it is against the law to take rubbish of any kind from private premises and dump it into the street.

The service department, Speakman pointed out, is obligated only to clean up the dirt and litter that accumulates normally in the street.

"When people want to rid up the gutters in front of their homes —when they pile up whatever is in the gutter so that it makes it easier to collect—we naturally appreciate it. It makes our job easier.

* * *

"BUT WE'VE finally had enough of those people who somehow get the idea that we're a rubbish collection agency for anything they want to toss into the street—shrubbery, tree limbs, waste paper; almost anything."

To clamp an immediate halt on the practice, Speakman obtained a copy of the city ordinance involved and planned to show it to City Court Judge Sterling M. Lamb. It provides fines ranging from $10 to $50 for violations.

Speakman said he has asked for strict enforcement of the law because "this street-dumping idea has got 'way out of hand during the past few months—far beyond what we're willing to tolerate."

The service department chief added:

"We know too that it isn't always the fault of the resident where you find the rubbish and litter. Only the other day a man called my attention to the way one of his neighbors dumped odds and ends of shrubbery into the street and let the stuff blow down in front of the other home.

"In such cases, naturally, we're not going to prosecute the innocent parties. But I mean what I say when I warn that I'm ready to start filing charges against those at fault.

"We figure we need at least one case as an example to show we aren't fooling."

* * *

SPEAKMAN meanwhile revealed that North Annex residents are now "cooperating nearly 100 percent" in the city's drive to detach illegal sewers in that end of the community. Council has ordered Speakman to do something about the large amount of storm water which finds its way into sanitary sewers in the newly added section.

The service department chief, in turn, sent letters to "40-some" home owners, but for a time it appeared that only 10 or 12 were willing to cooperate.

Speakman thereupon warned publicly he was ready to file charges.

"And now", he said, "almost all of them have indicated that they will cooperate in the work. I've heard from just about all of them, I guess, and I imagine the others will be getting in touch with me too.

"About 10 have yet to reply to my letters."

City law provides heavy fines for those who knowingly continue to use an illegal sewer tap.

Army To Send 100 Bandsmen To Fall Fiesta

1956 Pumpkin Show Rapidly Growing Into Giant Event

If anybody had any doubts about the 1956 Golden Jubilee Pumpkin Show being a jam-packed fiesta, Bob Colville ended all the wondering today.

"Mr. Pumpkin Show" has received confirmation that the famed U. S. Army Field Band will be here for the 50th anniversary of Circleville's world-known celebration. But the news was even better than expected.

Colville thought the band, in big demand all over the country, would only be able to make a one-day stop here. But Lt. Col. John A. Meads Jr. of the Army's Special Projects Branch made it clear that the musicians will be here for all four days of the show.

The band has approximately 100 members.

* * *

OCTOBER 17 is the opening date set for this year's anniversary show, already shaping up as a tremendous program with nationally known individuals and groups listed in the highlights.

Colville said he hoped to announce more new features in the near future.

The letter confirming that the Army Band will be on hand said that an advance officer will be here this Summer to complete arrangements for billeting the musicians.

Size of the band is indicated by the fact that it travels in a convoy of four buses, three trucks and two sedans.

Possessing, Playing Will Be Illegal Here, Statement Warns

Top law enforcement officers in Circleville and Pickaway County served notice today that action will be taken, after noon next Thursday, against "any person found possessing, exhibiting or playing" pinball machines.

A prepared statement to this effect was issued by Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer. In addition to the prosecutor, the statement was signed by Pickaway County Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff and Circleville Police Chief Elmer Merriman.

Ammer pointed out that pinball machines which offered prizes were illegal even before the recent State Supreme Court decision against pinball machines which offer free games.

The statement appealed for the cooperation of the public in the strict enforcement of the new ruling and warned that violations will not be "tolerated."

THE statement signed by the three officials follows:

"The Supreme Court of Ohio on June 6, 1956, in the case of Westhaus Company, Inc., vs. City of Cincinnati, Ohio, ruled that pinball machines which offer free games for high scores are gambling devices under the Ohio law. The decision of the Supreme Court of Ohio is the law of this state since the ruling was made by the highest court of the State of Ohio.

"This ruling as to pinball machines having been made by the Supreme Court of Ohio thus places a legal duty upon the following named officials to enforce the law of the State of Ohio as pronounced by the Ohio Court.

"In view of said ruling, the undersigned hereby give notice to all persons in Circleville and Pickaway County that pinball machines which offer free games for high scores being gambling devices must be removed from any and all places where the same have been or may be exhibited.

"Failure to remove said machines from any location in Circleville and Pickaway County by not later than July 5, 1956, at 12:00 p. m. will result in action being taken by the following named law enforcement officials by which said machines will be confiscat-

Harriman Seen Forcing Adlai On Race Issue

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — New York's Gov. Averell Harriman appears to be focusing his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination on the hope that Adlai E. Stevenson's supporters will break apart on civil rights.

Harriman made little political progress on the surface at the 48th annual Governors Conference which ended here yesterday. But he pounded away on his theme that the party must take a strong stand on civil rights.

The New York governor's strategists professed to believe that if that issue is pushed to the forefront at the Chicago convention, so much pressure will be put on Stevenson he will be forced into a stand alienating either Northern or Southern support.

If a wedge can be driven into the Stevenson ranks, Harriman's backers seem to be willing to risk a convention walkout and face the prospect of losing some Southern states in November.

$48½ Million OKd For Cancer Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has appropriated $48½ million for cancer research during the coming year in a money bill sent to the White House.

The compromise bill provides $2,366,380,781 to finance the Labor Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the fiscal year starting Sunday.

The House and Senate each approved the measure by voice.

Medical Expense Ruling Returned

COLUMBUS (AP) — Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill ruled today a county must pay medical expenses of a prisoner sent to county jail by a mayor's or municipal court for violating state law.

The opinion was rendered to Clinton County Prosecutor G. L. Schilling. If it was a city ordinance that was violated, the city must pay medical expenses, the O'Neill ruling declared.

Southwest Hit By 150 New Forest Fires

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Forest Service officials and an army of 2,500 men fought an unprecedented rash of about 150 fires in Arizona and New Mexico today.

Most of the fires were caused by lightning and ranged from less than an acre to 4,800 acres.

"This is undoubtedly the worst time we've had in region history," said M. H. Davis, assistant forester. "Our people are getting very fatigued. Fires are breaking out almost faster than we can keep abreast."

The largest was a 4,800-acre fire on Graham Mountain, south of Safford, Ariz. It broke out two weeks ago and was brought under control a few days ago. Then, late yesterday, wind up to 60 miles an hour fanned it wild again.

2 Soldiers Fail To Go Straight

DAYTON (AP) — Two soldiers, Kenneth E. Biddle, 18, of Urbana, and James A. Carnell, 17, of Marion, refused to go straight yesterday.

They were driving on Ohio 35 through Dayton when a city patrol safety car equipped with a loudspeaker boomed out:

"The light Pontiac in the center lane has the straight arrow. Will you proceed east please" — or in other words, continue straight.

The soldiers turned left. Patrolmen stopped them, discovered they were absent without leave from Fort Campbell, Ky.

The pair is being held in jail.

Ohioans Enthused About Shakespeare

TOLEDO (AP) — Ohioans flocked to see Shakespeare under the stars last night, as two troupes of Antioc Theater actors opened seven-week festivals in Toledo and Yellow Springs. The combined audiences totalled nearly 3,000.

The company, which started out at Antioch College four summers ago, found a ready audience in their first performance in northwest Ohio. About 2,000 attended "Much Ado about Nothing" in the Toledo Zoo Amphitheater.

Another 1,000 saw "All's Well That Ends Well" at the college in Yellow Springs where the theater got its start in 1952.

Private Nuclear Reactor Working

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's first private nuclear reactor for industrial research went into operation today.

The event gave American industry the first green light to conduct reactor studies without government security restrictions.

The 50,000-watt reactor is at the Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology on Chicago's near South Side. It is the first to be constructed in a highly populated area since the world's first reactor was operated under wartime secrecy at Stagg Field at the University of Chicago.

Little Hope Seen For War I Pension Bill OKd By House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects seemed dim for Senate action on a House-passed pension bill with a special $90-a-month provision for World War I veterans.

Proposals for bigger payments to service-disabled veterans and to veterans' widows and dependents were stripped from the measure during a turbulent session yesterday in which the House passed it and sent it to the Senate by a 364-51 rollcall vote.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), whose Finance Committee handles veterans' bills in the Senate, said his group will consider the pension bill "as soon as we can find a time to take it up."

But Byrd noted that the Senate committee already has a long list of items requiring its attention. This late in the session a major bill usually stands small chance of becoming law unless it is already well advanced.

Chairman Olin E. Teague of the House Veterans Affairs Committee said the stripped-down bill as passed by the House would cost $365 million the first year.

* * *

IT WOULD RAISE to $75 a month the present $66.15 non-service-connected pension for veterans rated permanently and totally disabled, and to $90 a month the present $78.75 pension for such veterans who have reached age 65 or who have been on the pension rolls for 10 continuous years.

A 10 per cent premium would be added for overseas service of 30 days or more. The pensions would go only to veterans whose yearly incomes are below the present legal ceilings — $1,400 if single or $2,700 with dependents.

Those so helpless as to require regular aid and attendance of another person would get a $15-a-month pension increase to $150.

All World War I veterans would become eligible for the $90 pension at age 65 if they met the income qualifications.

There are about three million World War I veterans out of the 22 million total for all wars and their average age is nearing 65.

Lausche Asking New Banking Tax

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche today appeared before the Ohio Legislature to recommend a tax relief program for local governments based on an increase in the state's tax on deposits in financial institutions.

He did not recommend an appropriation to overcome a nearly $4 million loss in local government taxes for this year. Nor did he recommend that the Legislature take action toward the purchase of the Lake Erie resort of Cedar Point at this time.

He did expand the legislative call to:

The governor did open the door for a possible appropriation for this year when he said:

"If appropriating moneys out of the general fund is to become the alternate solution to this problem, then I respectfully point out to you that the burden of the adverse decisions will have to be borne predominantly by those paying the sales and other excise taxes and will be suffered by the aged, the mentally sick and the school."

1. Authorize municipalities to sell water to consumers outside municipal boundaries without limitations.

2. Correct a typographical error in a 1955 act which conveyed certain canal lands to the city of St. Bernard.

Lausche's recommendation for an increase in the state deposits tax was contrary to a plan suggested yesterday by the Republican-dominated Legislative Service Commission.

* * *

THAT COMMISSION recommended the re-enactment, after revision, of the same tax on financial institutions which was knocked out by two Ohio Supreme Court decisions.

Lausche told the lawmakers:

"Frankly, I have grave apprehension about the validity of a bill which by legislative fiat attempts to affix the ownership of individuals in mutual financial associations or any associations. . . .

"However, assuming that a law of that type will be held constitutional by the courts I can not agree with the proposal that the recapturing of the windfall to Ohio financial institutions should be limited to six million dollars."

Legsilative leaders have been intending to recommend a special tax on the shares of financial institutions for two years to recoup about half of the prospective $12½ million tax loss.

$250 Federal Gambling Tax On Pinballs

CLEVELAND (AP) — The federal government can call "tilt" if the pinball machine which pays off in free games does not have a federal "gaming" license attached.

Many of the machines carry a federal amusement license, such as those required for coin-operated juke boxes. These cost $10 a year.

The gaming license is more expensive—$250 annually.

A. M. Stoepler, acting district director for the Internal Revenue Service in Cleveland, said the government has considered any device with "any sort of payoff" a gaming machine and subject to the more expensive license.

He indicated the recent ruling by the Ohio Supreme Court that pinball machines which paid off in free games did not effect the revenue department's position on requiring the gaming stamps.

Asked if the department was contemplating a crackdown on the devices which carry only the amusement stamp, Stoepler replied:

"We are always searching every field to seek compliance with all internal revenue laws."

Army Readies 'Antimissile'

Counterweapon Planned For Use In 1960-61

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has high hope for countering the coming menace of the intercontinental ballistic missile armed with an H-bomb warhead.

It predicted such an antimissile system will be ready in four or five years.

The Senate subcommittee investigating U.S.-Russian air power released last night previously secret testimony by the Army's specialists in missiles and missile defense development.

Included was the statement of the chief of the air defense branch of the Army's missile division, Lt. Col. Woodrow B. Sigley, that the Army is "confident" it will have a counterweapon ready in time to "meet the described threat" of the ICBM in 1960 or 1961.

Censors deleted portions of the testimony which apparently dealt with details of Army progress toward producing an antimissile system. It was assumed, however, that the Army was describing its Nike II missile.

Missouri Synod Boosts Budget

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The Missouri Synod Lutheran Convention here has recommended a six-year, $113,110,700 budget.

The long-range budget proposal passed unanimously late yesterday in the form of a recommendation to the church's fiscal conference. It covers the years 1957 through 1962.

The conference which is expected to meet this summer in St. Louis is the body which actually will set up the budget.

The total, broken down to yearly allocations, represents an increase each year of some 10 per cent over the previous year.

Money-Counter Crashes Window

WASHINGTON C. H. (AP) — Frank Mootispaw, 54, was too intent on counting his money and he landed in a doctor's office for treatment of leg, head and hand cuts.

Mootispaw cashed a check in a local bank, and was leaving, counting his money, when he walked right through a big plate glass window.

The window, adjoining the door at floor level, was shattered.

Mootispaw came up $10 short in his cash, but it was found amid bits of glass by a bystander.

2 Solons Chided For Rap At Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph L. Rauh Jr., chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, has described as "arrant nonsense" a charge by two senators that the Supreme Court has been handing down "pro-Communist" decisions.

Rauh, testifying at Senate Internal Security Subcommittee hearing, contended attacks on the court have reached a "violent pitch" because of its defense of individual rights.

He said that attacks on the court's decisions as "pro-Communist" by Sens. Eastland (D-Miss) and McCarthy (R-Wis) were clear evidence of a continuing drive "to discredit the court."

Big Steel Set To Cool Off Its Furnaces

Negotiators Pressing To Avoid Walkout Due Saturday Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio's steelmakers, with one-fifth of the nation's production capacity, today made plans for the orderly shutdown of mills if a strike should come Saturday midnight.

Steel companies and the United Steelworkers of America are negotiating in New York for a new contract.

A check of 13 Ohio plants, with three-fourths of the state's production, indicated no banking operations as yet. But Republic Steel has cut in half its coke-making operations in Canton.

Paul Martin, assistant to the plant superintendent of Jones & Laughlin, Cleveland, said plans call for the last push of the coke ovens Saturday evening. The last casts from the blast furnaces are expected Saturday noon. The open hearth will continue through the last "turn" of 3 to 11 p. m. Bloom mill and strip operations and the finishing divisions are expected to work through 11 p. m. Saturday.

* * *

UNITED STATES Steel in Cleveland expects to start its banking program tonight with the gradual shutdown of blast furnaces.

All steel-making equipment must be carefully cooled to prevent cracking and damaging. Even with care, however, some equipment will be damaged, especially the coke ovens.

Both sides worked frantically in New York last night to avert a shutdown and each blamed the other when the efforts ended in stalemate.

Twelve major companies began the exchange of compromise proposals by suggesting in a letter to Union President David J. McDonald that the strike be postponed indefinitely and negotiations continued after the contract expires at midnight Saturday.

The letter suggested that during the negotiations the union give 72 hours advance written notice of a strike any time after the deadline to prevent cooling damage to furnaces.

The companies promised in turn to shorten their demands for a five-year contract to four years and four months "with a proportionate reduction in benefits."

Length of the contract has been a major bone of contention. The current contract is for two years, with a one-year wage reopener.

McDonald rejected the companies' proposal as an "11th-hour" offer that "meets none of the union's reasoned objections to their original proposal."

He countered by offering to put off the strike for two weeks (until July 16) provided any agreement reached in the extended negotiations was retroactive to July 1, the original strike deadline.

The companies studied this for three hours and rejected it because of the retoractive idea.

Ike Shows Up At Window Of Army Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's doctors report he has started to gain weight for the first time since his operation.

This encouraging news came as the President, after making the first public appearance of his hospital stay, prepared to leave Walter Reed Army Hospital Saturday morning and continue recuperation at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

A medical bulletin said:

"His condition continues to progress satisfactorily. His spirits and morale are high."

They certainly appeared high last night when he popped his head through the open window of his hospital room and waved a salute to a small crowd and the Army band, which had lured him into public view for the first time with a rendition of "Army Blue."

Ohio Motorists Reminded On Gas Tax Hike

The federal tax on gasoline will go up 1-cent a gallon Sunday as part of the $13 billion increase in federal automobile taxes enacted by Congress this year for financing the 13-year federal highway program.

This increase, added to the present 2-cent federal tax and the 5-cent state tax, will bring total state and federal taxes in Ohio to 8 cents a gallon. This is equivalent to about a 38 percent sales tax on gasoline.

The Ohio gas tax, first imposed at a 2-cent rate in 1925, brought in only $13,257,000 the first full year it was in effect.

Now, with this new increase in the federal tax, highway users of this state will be paying an estimated $216 million a year—about 16 times as much—in state and federal taxes on gasoline.

* * *

THE 1-CENT federal increase, expected to yield more than half a billion dollars a year nationally, will bring to about 81 million the amount of federal gas tax collected annually in Ohio.

Motorists have a great stake in highways and they are paying for them. The present tax hike is the nineth general increase in gas tax rates motorists of this state have been called on to pay ni the 31 years that gasoline has been taxed here.

Roadblock Halts Pair Of Bandits

GREEN LANE, Pa. (AP) — Police threw up a road block 15 miles east of here following a $3,800 armed robbery of the Green Lane First National Bank yesterday and captured two Akron men.

The two, identified as Charles Musselman, 36, and Roy Furlong, 38, were taken to the jail in Lansdale after their capture.

J. Stanley Schoelkopf, president of the bank, said the two gunmen apparently followed him into the bank at 12:50 p. m. They scooped up a large sum of money from a cashier's cage, then forced Schoelkopf to open the vault where they took more cash.

As "Dairy Month" draws to a close in Summer style, let us pause to recognize that ice cream contains all of the important nutrients of milk, only in different proportions. After the pause, let's all go shopping for ingredients for a "Strawberry Blonde," a "Peach Smoothie," or maybe a "Purple Cow."

To make a "Strawberry Blonde," add 2 or 3 tablespoons of crushed strawberries to a glass of cold milk and stir well. Top with a scoop of strawberry ice cream for a beverage that's "extra special."

A "Peach Smoothie" is easy to make by mixing until smooth ½ package thawed, frozen peaches, 1 cup crushed ice, 1 cup milk and 1 tablespoon of lemon juice.

The "Purple Cow" is made by combining ½ cup cold grape juice, ½ cup ginger ale and 1 cup milk. Stir into this mixture 2 scoops of ice cream and serve immediately.

Research shows that persons who are not well fed in this country most often lack calcium. Nutritionists report that "double milk" beverages are an excellent source of calcium.

"Double Milk" is made by adding 4 tablespoons of dry milk powder to one cup of fluid milk, and stirring thoroughly. Fruit flavoring can be added to make a more taste-teasing beverage.

A "Buttermilk Fruit Shake" provides nutrition with the minimum of calories. The formula is: combine 4 cups buttermilk with the juice of 1 lemon and 2 oranges, and salt and sugar to taste. Mix well and chill.

One is never too old for milk. Children need a quart a day and adults at least a pint a day to maintain good health.

Dry milk solids—either non-fat or whole—provide a means of adding milk to the diets of those who do not like or prefer milk in the liquid form. Anyway, we should eat or drink milk to provide and maintain a firm foundation for body and good health. Some commercial companies even enrich milk with vitamin D to ensure their customers proper use of calcium.

Gardens, orchards and farm fields in Ohio have just about reached their full rate of productive growth. Locally grown fruits and vegetables are beginning to come to market in peak volume at their garden fresh best quality.

Most food experts will tell you that food which reaches its proper stage of maturity on the vine or tree, is harvested and eaten or preserved as soon afterward as possible normally has an excellent flavor and high nutritive value. During these Summer months of plentiful supplies and relatively reasonable prices many homemakers can, freeze, or otherwise preserve for wintertime eating some of the abundant Ohio grown items.

* * *

Genuine homemade bread can now be prepared without much home making! The new type mix contains enough material for two loaves and is accompanied by a reusable aluminum pan. Also included is a packet of cinnamon mix and one of garlic powder to provide the homemaker the privilege of a small scale flavor selection. After ten minutes of preparation and one hour of baking, the bread is ready to serve.

Do most shoppers shop accompanied by the ready knowledge of what a good food buy is? A good food buy is one that suits family tastes, time and facilities, is nutritionally sound; is of suitable quality and quantity; and is available at the lowest possible price under the best conditions of sale for the family shopper.

World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles can hop from one extreme to another without visible effort. This time it was on the question: Is Russia losing its grip on Communists outside Russia?

He said: Two months ago—the satellites were "still under the iron heel of Soviet force"; six days ago—the 'forces of despotism are more highly organized than ever"; Wednesday—Russia's hold on world communism is "gravely imperiled."

With that optimistic statement he seemed to help the new Red line laid down by Moscow: that Red parties everywhere should act like national parties doing their own thinking.

It is possible in time that Communist parties outside Russia will be independent, will quarrel among themselves and with Russia, and that international communism may disintegrate.

For once the Kremlin relaxes its control—and no one can be sure that has happened yet — it may open a door which can never be closed.

No one, including Dulles, can be dogmatic about that yet. There's not enough evidence for it yet.

On what did he base his switch? All that's known to have happened recently is this: Red leaders in Italy, France, East Germany, Britain and the United States asked critical questions of the new bosses in Russia:

"Since you were the most trusted aides of Stalin during all those years of the crimes you now say he committed, what did you do to stop them? And what role did you play in them?"

But these were the minimum questions the Red leaders outside Russia could ask because they were the msot obvious ones. They were being asked all around the world by Communist rank-and-filers and non-Communists alike.

The Red leaders outside Russia —except Yugoslavia's Tito who had broken with Stalin—had not only been Stalin's obedient yes-men through the years of his crimes but his undeviating supporters.

It was because they didn't deviate that they remained leaders. So the questions they asked of Stalin's he is in the Kremlin were really the same questions being asked of them by their own countrymen and their own party members.

Their questions to Nikita Khrushchev, Russian Communist party boss who made the revelations about Stalin, can be interpreted as a request to Khrushchev to take them off the spot by giving answers that will satisfy their own countrymen.

When Khrushchev and his colleagues in Moscow decided — it took them three years after Stalin's death—to disclose his crimes, they certainly must have known what they were doing.

They must have known that in stripping Stalin naked before history, they were raising doubts about themselves — and all Red leaders everywhere who had been Stalin's errand boys — and that questions about their roles in Stalin's career would be asked.

It is possible that they have the answers ready and will give them when they think best. It is also possible they arranged for the Red leaders outside Russia to ask the questions they did.

Dulles said Wednesday the questions raised by Red leaders in the non-Communist countires — although they were almost identical —"were not a prearranged pattern at all."

Unless he has information not known to the public, he is stating an opinion and not a fact. He is also creating an optimism which may have no basis in reality.

The orchid is one of the hardiest of all flowering plants. The orchid grows in the steaming tropics and in the rugged Arctic regions.

Chairman Notes Success Of Bond Program

"Just 15 years ago," reports Judge William D. Radcliff, chairman of the Pickaway County Savings Bonds Cimmittee, "the Series E Savings Bond was launched as a peacetime defense program, and when the smoke had cleared at Pearl Habor we saw the program go into dramatic action as a method of financing the war effort.

"Throughout the nation in 1941, sales of the E Bond reached a little more than $1 billion dollars. Today we find the people of the United States holding approximately $38 billion in just the Series E Bond alone.

"In '41 our dreams were of peace and then, when the war was terminated, we all had our individual dreams of buying a home, raising a family, education and countless other things.

"During the post war years we have all found that savings bonds have helped us to realize these big dreams. No other savings plan has been as successful as the United States Savings Bonds Program."

* * *

THE COUNTY chairman pointed out that sales of Series E and H Bonds during 1955 were the highest in peacetime, and that so far in 1956 sales were just 3.2 percent below the first five months of last year. In Ohio the May sales of the E and H series were just over $26 million, about one million less than May, 1955.

Outstanding among the industrial counties was Summit County with sales of over $2 million, while Medina, Vinton and Ottawa lead the state in percentage of sales attainment. Sales in Pickaway County for May were $60,959.

Expert Reviews U.S. Economy

Business Taking Cautious Look At Last Half Of '56

(Editor's Note: Sam Dawson, Associated Press business analyst, who has been touring the nation to find out the situation first hand, reviews his findings in two articles, of which the following is the first.

By SAM DAWSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Business around the nation is taking a more cautious but still hopeful look today at the second half of the year.

A flash recession has rolled down on some industries, notably autos and farm machinery. But while they seek to regain their feet most of the rest of the economy has gone marching right along. The pace isn't as breakbeck as last year. And there have been some laggards, such as housing, home appliances and textiles.

Uncertainty in steel—strike or peace, price hikes, inventory buildups, the trend in customer demand—and uncertainty in politics keep businessmen closely watching the news tickers at mid year.

There are other parts of the economy, notably agriculture, where the problems are deep rooted. But even the farmers now hope that the worst is over, at least.

At mid year the popular prediction is for a quiet summer followed by a resurgent autumn—a sort of spring revival six months delayed.

There are sharp regional differences. Some places have been rocked by the blow of cutback production and snowballing layoffs. Michigan, where unemployment is serious, lives by the faith that burns eternal there, faith in the power of new auto models to heal all hurts.

Others live on the momentum of the onward and upward surge. California is one example. With the aircraft and electronics industries booming, good times are taken for granted.

Look at the strong spots instead of the soft ones and the nation's economy rarely seemed healthier. The total dollar value of the nation's output of good and services is running close to a record 400 billion dollars a year. With a few important exceptions these goods and services are moving into consumption without a bobble.

Personal income is running around 317 billion dollars a year (and people are spending around 260 billions of it promptly.) Business is putting out around 62 billion, 35 billion of it for new plant and equipment. Federal, state and local government spending comes to 77 billion. Each category is above the last year spending rate.

Retail trade, with the exception of the auto and farm equipment and to some extent the appliance dealers, is mostly higher than a year ago.

Home building is down in unit volume but total expenditures are as high or higher than last year because more expensive houses are being built. A boom in commercial and industrial building is bringing the grand total for construction close to 45 billion dollars for the year, to top last year's 43 billion.

There are some big question marks for business in the weeks just ahead but confidence in the long pull seems unshaken.

3 Branch Banks Given Go-Ahead

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Department of Commerce has approved applications for the establishment of three branch banks at Knollwood.

Superintendent of Banks Paul Hinkle said the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Fairborn would establish one branch and the Union Savings and Trust Co. of Warren would establish two branches.

Air-Conditioning Shunned By Jury

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The grand jury, at the invitation of Chief Federal Judge George H. Moore, moved its session Tuesday into the judge's air-conditioned courtroom, which wasn't being used. Wednesday they moved back to their own non-air-conditioned quarters.

There is a no-smoking rule in the courtroom.

Ravenna Farm Unit Protests Dam Plan

RAVENNA (AP)—Portage County Farm Bureau trustees have asked the Public Works Committee of Congress to delay action on a proposed $14 million dam and reservoir of a Mahoning River branch near Wayland.

Their telegraphed request said that while the bill says the proposed reservoir is for flood control, the Farm Bureau contends it is to be used to benefit the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. and the city of Youngstown. The request also protested that 3,400 acres of Portage County property would be removed from the tax duplicate if the project is built.

WASHINGTON PARTIES

RESIGNATION OF Robert B. McLeaish from an administration post in the Department of Agriculture is accompanied by gossip about Saturnalian revels. It seems Washington, D. C., where the quaffing of liquor is alleged to be the highest per capita in the country, throws shindigs which even Hollywood might envy.

This is not surprising to those familiar with the way a man away from home is inclined to slough off his inhibitions. Washington is a sort of continuing convention city. It attracts thousands of citizens on business with their government. Many of these visitors enter heartily into Washington's festive atmosphere. Occasionally some of the top government personnel helps them along.

But that sort of thing cannot be permitted to go too far. While Washington jollity is bipartisan, a high official who flagrantly indulges is no less to be deplored than a five per cent influence boy. So an example has to be made lest folk get the idea that Washington is morally rotten.

It isn't, of course, any more than other towns. But officials who mingle with the play boys, lobbyists and other flingers of wild parties are monkeying with the buzz saw of public opinion.

One doctor says worry will make a person fat. So will potatoes and gravy.

Payments to children for digging dandelions ought to be tax-exempt like any out-of-the-ground severance income.

Karl Marx would still be able to hear the outcries of the masses if he returned today. They'd be yelling, "Fore!"

'PAY LATER' EDUCATION

THIS IS THE age of "Buy Now—Pay Later" and "Travel Now—Pay later" installment-plan living.

Now the treasurer of Princeton University, Ricardo A. Mestres, has proposed a "Study Now—Pay Later" plan. Mestres notes that tuition fees at the average private university cover only about half the real cost of educating a student.

So why not double the fees and device a plan to enable the student to pay off most of his tuition after he graduates? Under the Mestres plan a sort of General Education Acceptance Corporation would be set up to which the colleges would sell their tuition notes.

Then the corporation—and not the respective college treasurers—could carry out the task of collecting the monthly payments from the college alumni under the plan.

Mestres also proposes that students who enter "poorly paid but socially useful" professions would get discounts. Presumably this would be for teachers, ministers, social workers—although housewives and would-be poets and artists might also make claims.

All this sounds a trifle fantastic. But so did much of the installment buying everyone takes for granted 30 years ago.

SEASON OF DROWNINGS

THE SEASON OF drowning accidents seems to have set in with a vengeance. From all sections of the country come reports of deaths in the water. It is obvious that years of warnings against venturing into unguarded waters unless one is an accomplished swimmer and has taken all necessary precautions have gone for naught.

When an individual enters the water to swim, or takes to a private boat, he is largely dependent upon his own resources. The fact that most drownings are avoidable is proof that many persons take needless risks in the water.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The efforts that are being made to have Morton Sobell released remind me of an episode during the first year of the Russian Revolution. Big Bill Haywood was in jail in the United States and a group of Bolsheviks had decided that the best way to get Haywood freed quickly would be to kidnap the American Ambassador, David Francis, and then exchange prisoner for prisoner.

It was Trotzky who foiled the plot. In the first place, he put a tank with machine guns in front of the Embassy; then he told me and I told Francis.

It is certainly no crime for the friends of Morton Sobell to try to get him out of prison, provided they do it by due process of the law. Getting the aged Bertrand Russell or the existential Jean Paul Sartre to intervene is not due process. Their opinions may be interesting to their followers but cut no ice here.

Sobell's lawyers have appeared in court, before Judge Irving Kaufman, to plead that the verdict sentencing him to 30 years imprisonment be set aside on the ground that his constitutional rights had been violated.

This contradicts the statement of his lawyer, E. H. Bloch, at the time of his trial. As I read Judge Kaufman's decision, no claim is made that Sobell is innocent of having conspired with Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, and with Harry Gold, David Greenglass, Klaus Fuchs and others to steal the atom bomb from the Manhattan Project at Los Alamos.

In one form or another, the Rosenberg-Sobell cases have appeared before the United States Court of Appeals six times and before the United States Supreme Court six times and the conviction has remained undisturbed.

Judge Kaufman makes this important point which apparently neither Bertrand Russell nor Jean Paul Sartre, who have intervened, recognize:

"It is difficult to find a case in the history of American jurisprudence, or indeed in the judicial annals of any other country, where the defendants' convictions and contentions have received the attention of so many judges at so many levels of a judicial system, as well as that of the President of the United States on applications for executive clemency. Not a single legal recourse has been or will be denied to Sobell."

Sobell's lawyers aver that Sobell was kidnapped from Mexico by agents of the Mexican Secret Police "who were acting under the orders of the FBI, and that he was thus forcibly and illegally returned to the United States against his will. . .'

Sobell's contention is that he would have returned willingly and that it was improper for the Mexican government to deport him and that actually such "kidnapping violated a treaty between the United States and Mexico." The Government of the United States denies the alleged kidnapping.

Sobell tells a harrowing tale of having been beaten by the Mexican police until he was unconscious. It is to be pointed out that Sobell did not claim the benefit of these facts until five days after his conviction. Judge Jerome Frank, who heard his first appeal, said:

"Sobell waived his right to challenge personal jurisdiction in this trial. . .He made no move to bring to light the facts of his alleged abduction. He preferred to take his chances on the verdict, withholding his trump card until the trial was over. The Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure allow no such tactic."

Sobell's lawyers produced no new evidence of his guiltlessness; they only claim that the original court in which the trial occurred lacked jurisdiction. To this Judge Kaufman replies:

CHAPTER 17

"YOU TOLD Mr. Todd you'd give him your answer Saturday, Priscilla. That's three days away. If you want any of this old stuff, you'd better be making up your mind."

"Well, there haven't been any other offers. And Mr. Todd probably thinks I'm weak-minded because I haven't told him to go ahead and close with Alvarez. I might as well, but somehow, Rita, I have a queer feeling that I'd like to hold onto it for awhile."

"And pay taxes on an empty house? You've let all those old tales of hidden treasure influence you subconsciously, Priscilla. At first, I advocated holding off, thinking that if Alvarez wanted to rush it through so quickly he might have some inside track about the value, but since no other offer has come along, I guess you might as well go ahead with it. Especially since Alvarez is willing to take the antiques and you won't have to peddle them around."

"I won't pretend I want to keep anything through sentiment, of course. I never knew Aunt Rachel. But there are some figurines and vases I'd like to have. And some of the silver. There are some really good pieces, particularly the goblets."

"And those crocheted bedspreads are heirlooms—" Rita broke off, startled. "What was that?"

"Sounded like a door closed."

"And footsteps coming down the stairs."

"But we've just come from upstairs. Is there a basement?"

"I've seen no door to any basement. But I distinctly heard a door close and I heard footsteps."

"Rita, do you suppose it's safe for us to be over here? It's so early in the morning—not yet six. If a tramp happens to sleep here, perhaps we disturbed him."

"But how does he get in, and out?"

They had awakened early, and after a cup of coffee, had decided they would come over to Lookout House and see what Priscilla would like to keep.

Rita didn't think it was a good idea for Priscilla to stay in Apalachicola any longer. It was obvious that she liked Dr. Devereaux and it was just as obvious where his interest lay. Bill had said last night that the doctor and Pete were rushing Priscilla to make Peggy jealous.

Her mind swerved back to what Priscilla had said. "No tramp sleeps here. The doors are locked and you couldn't raise one of these windows. If that was really a door closing, there must have been a draft."

"But what caused the draft? And I saw that light flash again last night."

Rita said lightly, "Well, remember the house is haunted. Might be we've disturbed the ghosts. Frankly, I'm more interested in your disposing of the place than I am in the ghosts."

"I'm having fun." There was wistfulness in Priscilla's voice. "I feel bad about leaving. The people here are so easygoing. That Pete Craig is almost as much fun as Dick, or more fun really—but not quite so interesting."

"You mean you prefer the doctor?"

"I suppose so. Of course I have no delusions. I know they're both in love with Peggy Pomeroy . . . Pete and I were dancing last night when she and Dick came in. They didn't stay long—I think Dick got a call. She was more friendly than she was the other time, but she seemed surprised seeing me there with Pete."

"Go on having fun while you're here but don't get to liking either of those lads," Rita cautioned.

"Pete asked me to go to the party on the Silver Song with him. It was nice of Mr. Alvarez to ask us."

"What else could he do? When he met us down there in Mr. Todd's office and they started talking about it, he probably felt that he should. You'll remember he said he knew few people here. I wonder why he's going to the trouble to have a big party?"

"To create good will, I suppose. If he's going to have business interests here, he probably thinks it will be a diplomatic gesture. Pete said he'd be glad to have you go with us, if you didn't want to go with Bill."

"I don't mind going with Bill," Rita said. "He rather intrigues me. It is so apparent that I have him guessing. He seems to be looking for someone and he hasn't quite decided whether I'm the one. It's fun, being mysterious. I do believe, though, that you should let it be known why you're here."

"They'll wonder why I didn't tell them in the beginning."

"You should have, I suppose. I take the responsibility for that mistake. I thought we would be here such a short while it wouldn't matter."

"Let it take care of itself," Priscilla said. "I can say something to Pete or Dick about wishing I could stay around to see who wins out with Peggy, but now that I've found a purchaser for my property we'll be on our way. I'd like to come back here someday, wouldn't you?"

"This place grows on one," Rita admitted. "There's real charm about it. But I would never be satisfied in a small town. Let's lock up and go back and get breakfast. We can come over later and put all these things together."

They were fastening the lock at the gate when Bill drove by. He slowed to a stop and said pleasantly, "It's mighty early for sight-seeing. I gather that's what you're doing?"

It's about the same time he came by yesterday, Rita thought. What is he looking for? Is he really watching us? It had been amusing at first; it wasn't any more. She said, "You, too, must like the early mornings."

Bill thought, She never answers questions. She counters with another. Now why the dickens are they prowling around that old house? Had they been inside, or were they just looking around on the outside? He wished he had been a little earlier.

"If you haven't had breakfast," he said, "how about coming with me?"

"Thanks, but we're having breakfast at the cottage this morning. The coffee's already made. Come over and eat with us." Rita's voice was friendly.

Involuntarily Bill's glance went from Rita to Priscilla, who said, "Oh, I don't mind. Come along if you like."

Bill laughed. "That invitation doesn't sound very cordial, but I'm coming anyway."

When they were seated at the table in the breakfast nook, he said casually, "Going to the party on the Silver Song?"

"We've been invited."

"I'd like to have you both go with me. Or if Peggy Pomeroy can spare one of her faithful attendants, maybe we can make it a foursome."

Priscilla said, "Peggy is going to spare one of her faithful attendants. Pete is taking me to the party."

"Then it's settled. I'm taking Rita—if she'll go with me. Will you, Rita?"

Rita said she would be glad to go with him. Even though Bill Duval was being attentive for a purpose, he was good company. And after all, what difference did it make?

They Limbo Fat Into Limbo

By HAL BOYLE

TRINIDAD, B. W. I. (AP)—The natives here have got a sure cure for excess weight. They just limbo it away.

The limbo should soon be sweeping the United States. I'll guarantee that any girl who practices the limbo for six weeks will have a wasteline as supple as a fishing worm. Either that or she'll be in the hospital with a mystified doctor murmuring, "Madam, how did you ever get yourself tied up like a pretzel?"

What is the limbo? It is an ancient African dance resembling the high jump. But instead of leaping over the crossbar, you dance under it, each time lowering the crossbar nearer to the floor. You wear nothing but a swim suit and dance barefooted.

Sound simple? Try it. As the bar gets lower and lower, the dancer has to spreadeagle his legs farther apart as he shuffles forward, his delicately balanced body and head bent backward like a weaving cobra.

The dance puts a tortuous strain on leg, stomach and back muscles.

"The limbo is an old folk dance that came over with the slaves, probably in the 17th century," said Charles S. Espinet, local newspaper editor who is an authority on island customs. "No one knows the origin of the name."

In 1944 Edric Connor, a Trinidad-born singer and stage and screen star, revived the dance. Soon it became a popular diversion among society figures here.

American airmen even adopted it as a physical training exercise and it is now being boomed as a tourist attraction.

There are perhaps a hundred professional limbo dancers in the West Indies, of whom a dozen are rated as first class.

The record is held by a woman, Ruth Henry of Antigua, who danced under a crossbar only 8 inches from the floor. The most famous limbo artist, however, is "Stretch" Wilcox, who is six feet three and has gone under a bar at 10 inches. He has the widest following because he mixes comedy with his gyrations.

Porter-Pettit Nuptials Read In Presbyterian Church

Bride Wears Lovely Silk And Lace Gown

Miss Marilyn Ruth Porter was united in marriage to Thomas Edwin Pettit, Lieutenant J. G. of US Navy by the Rev. Donald Mitchell.

The ceremony was performed in Presbyterian Church before an altar decorated with tall vases of white gladiolas and huckleberry foliage.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. E. Porter of Circleville Route 4 and the late Mr. Porter. Lt. Pettit is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pettit of 481 Pickaway St.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her brother Mr. Robert Dean Porter, wore a white waltz-length gown of silk mist, designed with short sleeves and a portrait neckline, outlined in handrun Alencon lace. The princess line gown had a wide flounce of box pleating with Alenson lace at the top. Her openwork lace half hat was strewn with seed pearls and held a fingertip veil of imported silk English illusion. She carried a bouquet of white and pink stephanotus centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Robert Porter, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a waltz-length gown of nile green crystalette. Pleated crystalette formed an insert in the very full skirt and was repeated in the deep V neckline.

Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Driscoll and Miss Janet Schultz, both of Cincinnati and sorority sisters of the bride. They wore coral dresses fashioned identical to the matron of honor's.

The attendants flowers were cascades of nile green and coral carnations.

Mr. Myron Pettit of Columbus served as best man for his brother and ushers were Mr. Frank Feraco of New Jersey and Mr. Robert Ferguson of Circleville.

Mrs. Theodore Huston presented a half hour of organ music and Mrs. Myron Pettit of Columbus sang "The Pledge," "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother, Mrs. Porter, wore a dior blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Pettit, the groom's mother, chose a blue and white print dress with blue accessories and a red rose corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the social rooms of the church.

For the couple's wedding trip through the eastern part of the states, the new Mrs. Pettit wore a blue linen sheath dress with black patent leather accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The former Miss Porter is a graduate of Pickaway Township High School and Ohio University, where she became a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. She is employed in the personnel department of Albers-Colonial stores.

Lt. Pettit was graduated from Circleville High School and the United States Academy of Annapolis, Md., and is presently the executive officer of the USS Detector (MSO 429) at Charleston, S. C.

After July 1 Lt. and Mrs. Pettit will reside at 110 Savannah Highway, Charleston, S. C.

Canned Meats Handy To Prepare For Main Dishes

Ready for service the year round but especially welcome in warm weather is a well-stocked shelf of canned meats. They are handy for picnics, of course, but they can also be used for main dishes and substatial salads for Summer meals. For example, a jellied meat dish and a platter of good potato salad is a favorite Summer special.

For six servings of the jellied meat recipe, soften an envelope of plain gelatine in ½ cup cold water. Put over boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved.

Stir in ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon Tabasco and cool.

Stir gelatine mixture into ¾ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, blend in 2 (2¼ oz) cans deviled ham. Mix in 1½ teaspoon grated onion, ½ cup finely diced celery, ¼ cup finely diced green pepper, ¼ cup diced pimiento and 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped.

Turn into six molds or a 3-cup mold. Chill until firm.

Unmold. Garnish with tomato wedges.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband's snoring is the problem. It seems to be a laughing matter to others, but to me it is very serious and has caused me much worry and many sleepless nights.

We have been married 14 years and in recent years Fred's snoring has kept me so wakeful that I have to move to another bed to get the necessary sleep and rest. He resents this, and I know it is hard for him to understand why I can't sleep through his snoring when it didn't keep me awake during the first 10 years of our marriage.

Fred took a travelling job a few years ago, and was away from home from Monday through Friday. Then, as I got used to sleeping alone, his snoring during the nights he was home would keep me awake; and, as I am very nervous, it was a most annoying experience, which made me tired and irritable.

Is there any kind of medical treatment to prevent snoring? I have tried taking sleeping pills to carry me through the night despite Fred's snoring, but I find that I don't get relaxed restful sleep after taking sedatives.

I love my husband very much, but this seemingly unimportant matter has caused me so much distress that if I can't find a solution, it will ruin our marriage. Now that I am older, my nervous condition seems to get worse for lack of sleep and rest.

F.S.

DEAR F.S.: When I asked a doctor "Is there a cure for snoring?" he said "Snoring is almost entirely a result of sleeping on your back. In that position, when the muscles relax, the tongue drops back into the throat and causes a partial obstruction in breathing — which produces the guttural sounds of snoring."

So the cure, he remarks, is to get in the habit of sleeping in some other position.

However, it seems to the doctor and me that there is more to the problem than your husband's snoring. There appears to be a grave and hidden rift in the marriage—of which your fixed irritation about the snoring is only a symptom.

In substance, your attitude amounts to rejecting your husband entirely as a bed fellow, using his snoring as an alibi for your recent evasion of conjugal closeness.

It is significant that your impatience with Fred's snoring took hold after he became a travelling man, away from home Mondays through Fridays every week. On the surface this looks as though you simply got used to doing without him, and enjoying better conditions of rest during his absence —so that his presence nowadays seems an ordeal, comparatively.

Your anger focussed on his snoring, which didn't bother you years ago, may be, unconsciously, the resentful reaction of a wife who feels slighted.

The burning quality of your unrest, and feeling that the marriage is at stake, suggests that you ought to get specialist help, in discovering the real nature of your quarrel with Fred. That's a necessary first step towards healing the rift at its roots.

M.H.

Libel Suits Filed In Union Election

CLEVELAND (AP)—Libel suits for $100,000 each were filed here Wednesday by Howard R. Schwartz of Rittman, incumbent president of the United Auto Workers local at the Chevrolet plant, and William L. Wood of suburban Brooklyn, incumbent shop committee chairmen.

Defendants were Albert Hlavin, who ran against Schwartz for president in an election June 12, and nine other candidates on Hlavin's slate of officers. Results of the election have not yet been announced.

An attorney for the plaintiffs said it had been "insinuated my clients were Communists."

Sokolsky's

These Days

Sobell's second claim is that false evidence was introduced in his trial. Judge Kaufman analyzes all the evidence and establishes that no perjured evidence was introduced nor was any evidence supressed. This decision runs 48 pages and covers a lot of territory.

The judge holds that "This petition is so entirely devoid of merit that perhaps it has been unduly dignified by the minute consideration and analysis it has received in this opinion. However, an effort has been made to lay to rest with finality baseless contentions and accusations which have been repeated not primarily to aid the petitioner but rather to embarrass and injure our courts and country."

Possible Steel Strike Holds Varied Trouble For Industry

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The approach of the steel contract deadline raised a big question today: what would be the effect on other U.S. industries if a steel strike developed Saturday midnight?

For some, like autos and home appliances, a short strike would require only minor adjustments, an Associated Press survey shows.

Other, like the oil and building construction industries, already are working with scant steel inventories. They would be affected almost immediately by a steel stoppage.

Steelmen feel many customers began as early as last January to build up reserve supplies. Customers were fully aware of strike possibilities as well as inevitable increases in the price of steel.

Best available estimates are that a 30-to-60 day supply of steel of all kinds is on hand somewhere between the mills and the finished products. But this total tonnage estimate does not reflect the fact there is a critical shortage of some steel items now, and a possible surplus of others.

The canning industry, for one, says it has been preparing for the possibility of a steel strike. A spokesman for Continental Can Co. said: "If there is a steel strike, we'll be able to take care of all the needs of our customers for at least eight weeks."

From the heart of the Southwestern oil producing country, though, comes words that just the possibility of a strike already is curtailing new well starts and deep well drilling. Oil men must have equipment on hand when they begin drilling.

Steel producers, studying the urgency of order demands say that both the oil and construction industries are operating hand to mouth on available steel supplies. Both would be pinched by even a short strike. Any curtailment of construction would mean immediate unemployment for thousands of workers.

A steel strike would throw a double-barreled jolt at the nation's railroads. The immediate effect would be a drop in freight traffic in finished steel and raw materials. The other would be further delay in building needed freight cars.

Steelmen feel the auto industry, which has cut production below the record pace of last year and has canceled some steel orders, would have enough steel on hand to complete production of 1956 models.

The auto industry does not begin ordering steel for new model cars until mid-August.

Also farm equipment buying has passed its peak for the year and little difficulty would be expected in that field.

The 350,000 miners who dig coal for the steel mills will be on vacation when the strike deadline comes. But an extended steel strike could mean many miners would have to join the 650,000 idle steelworkers.

Steel producers also feel that a strike would push them back into the same predicament they were in last year when the industry was unable to meet customer demands, let alone get the steel out on time.

The steel industry produced a record 117 million tons in 1955 and has been slightly ahead of that pace so far this year.

Ohio Leader Named Vote Study Chief

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio's secretary of state, Ted W. Brown, has been named chairman of a national committee to study the use of voting machines.

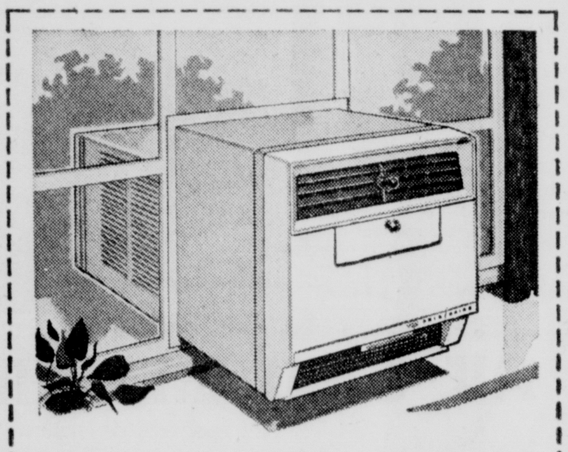

The appointment was made by Mississippi Secretary of State Heber Ladner, president of the National Assn. of Secretaries of State.

Ladner said: "With mechanical voting becoming so prevalent in many parts of the country, this study should be made in order that the benefits of such a system may be made available to the states not now using voting machines."

'Heat-Stricken' Cases Can Vary In Symptoms And Treatment

Exhaustion, Stroke, Cramps All Different

Even Those Trained In First Aid Can Confuse The Three

What would YOU do if a person standing in front of you suddenly toppled to the ground, stricken with the heat?

In Circleville and almost any other community, the answers to that question—aimed at the average person — would range from ridiculous ideas to accurate knowledge of the best possible first aid. This is partly because most people, even when they have had the benefit of first aid training, often forget the rules they have read or heard — and partly because attacks due to the heat vary considerably in cause and treatment.

For that reason, the Pickaway County Health Department was asked to provide information for an article on the subject of heat-caused physical distress. The following article by Paul Smallwood, Herald staff writer, was made possible through that assistance.

The term "stricken with the heat" normally covers three categories: heat stroke (sun stroke), heat exhaustion (prostration) and heat cramps.

Each category has its own particular symptoms and means of treatment.

It is not always necessary that an individual be exposed to the sun's rays to develop heat stroke. Clothing which prevents the escape of body heat, excessive humidity, fatigue, particularly in the absence of a current of air, all increase the danger of being stricken.

Symptoms of this injury include headache, dizziness and nausea, and the victim may appear flushed, or have a bluish color about the face and lips. Body temperature in such cases is above normal, and the skin is hot and dry.

* * *

FOR treatment of mild heat stroke cases, wrap the victim in a wet sheet and expose to cold drafts of air, as from a fan.

In more severe cases, apply ice to the temples and the back of the neck and place the stricken person in a cool bath for 20 minutes, at the same time rubbing the limbs and trunk to stimulate circulation.

Heat exhaustion is a form of shock resulting from exposure to heat and occurs more frequently when the humidity is high. It is a serious condition requiring prompt treatment.

Symptoms of this type of heat distress are those of shock: face pale, cold, clammy sweat, weak and rapid pulse, and slow respiration.

It is important to remember that treatment for this condition is exactly opposite that of heat or sun stroke, in that the victim must be kept warm.

A helpful bystander could assist a stricken person by applying first aid measures as follow:

1. LAY the victim flat with head low and feet raised.
2. Put blankets and wraps under and over the body.
3. Keep moderately warm with hot water bottles, but do not burn.
4. Give warm and sweetened drinks, but not if the person is unconscious.
5. Get a doctor without delay.

Persons exposed to intense heat or doing manual labor lose large amounts of salt in their perspiration, and as the salt is depleted, muscular cramps may develop.

Symptoms of this affliction are spasmodic cramps of the muscles of the abdomen and limbs.

The best treatment for heat cramps consists of warm baths, rest, and liquid drinks to which salt has been added. If the cramps are severe, or persist, a doctor should be called.

Royalty Involved In Rome Dope Raid

ROME (AP) — Police have filed narcotics charges against 21 persons, including four titled men prominent in Italian high society.

Those charged with using drugs were Prince Giuseppe Pepito Pignatelli, 25, well known about Rome but officially a resident of Mexico City; Duke Lodovico Lante della Rovere, 25, a member of the same ancestral famiy as 16th century Pope Julius II; Marquis Emanuele de Seta, 36, Sicilian aristocrat; Duke Augusto Torlonia, 32, scion of one of Italy's wealthiest families.

Federal Officials Changing Rules On Video Assignments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today charted the course of U.S. television toward possible exclusive operation on the ultra high frequency (UHF) channels, numbered 14 through 83.

The shift could change the face of telecasting a decade hence.

A commission announcement that it will consider the possibility of eventually putting all or most of TV on UHF involved an admission that mixing the newer UHF channels with the older VHF channels, numbered 2 through 13, in the same community hasn't worked out as expected.

As an immediate curative for that, the commission committed itself to a policy of "demixing" such communities, where feasible, in order to equalize station competition and give UHF operators a chance to survive where they have not been surviving when confronted with VHF competitors.

The proposed general shift to UHF is a long-term proposal, involving at least a couple more years of FCC consideration and, if finally approved, a minimum of 10 years of transition in which VHF stations might be required to telecast simultaneously on a UHF channel, while the public was changing over to UHF receivers.

The commission said the transition period would have to be sufficiently long "to cover the useful life of VHF-only receivers in the hands of the public" and permit amortization of VHF transmitting equipment.

FCC suggested the shift could be made on a nationwide basis, or by making states east of the Mississippi River all-UHF, leaving use of the wider-range VHF operation to the West's big open spaces.

Commercial television was launched on VHF in 1941. The 70 new UHF channels were not created until 1952. The result; of 500 TV outlets now operating, 400 are VHF; of 37 million TV sets in the hands of the public, some 30 million can tune in VHF programs only.

In the cities where the channels were intermixed, most UHF operators have found the going difficult. Many have closed down.

Fremont Tax Foes Halting Campaign

FREMONT (AP) — A referendum move against the city's income tax has collapsed and Mayor John M. Collins re-hired policemen and firemen he had layed off for economy.

James Marinis, John Love and Clyde Tittle, sponsors of the referendum which would have prevented collection of a one-half per cent income tax, withdrew their petitions bearing 735 names.

City Council voted the tax, expected to produce between $250,000 and $300,000 a year, but the referendum petitions would have stopped collection temporarily.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Many corner grocers and big supermarkets this weekend offer hams and chickens at special prices, appealing to the housewife shopping for the Fourth of July holiday.

Both meats are hot weather favorites, since they can be served cold as well as hot and are popular for picnics and summer outings.

The decline in wholesale prices of pork and lamb in recent weeks is now refected in lower retail prices for these two meats in many sections. Some areas also report lower beef prices.

The beef, pork and lamb wholesale market was generally firm this week and in some areas prices recovered almost as much as they had lost in the past few weeks. Unless there is renewed price weakness, an increase in retail prices can be expected.

Coffee-drinking became more expensive this week when a number of big grocery chains raised prices three to four cents a pound.

Vegetables from local farms in practically all sections of the country are bringing prices down. Cabbage, lettuce, radishes and green onions are generally outstanding buys.

Among good buys are beans, escarole, cucumbers and peas from local growers. Asparagus is also generally moderately priced, although the crop is about over in most sections and much that comes to market now is from storage. Carrots are also listed as a good buy by government produce experts. Potato prices remain relatively high.

Safeguards On Radiation Seen In Sea, Air, Plants

(Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of two articles dealing with radiation, a by-product of the atomic age.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—English cows have eaten grass sprinkled with radioactive elements released in atom bomb tests in faraway Nevada.

While stressing that such a radioactive menu—not restricted to cows in Britain alone—is far from being at any danger point at this time, the National Academy of Sciences mentions it to emphasize this point:

The sea, the air and pants and animals hold the answers to some of the still-unsolved radiation safety problems.

"We had better be ready with the answers," the academy adds.

So far, says this group of eminent scientists, only relatively small amounts of radiation have been released. And, on the whole, it says, things have gone well from the safety standpoint — both in controling release and applying protection measures.

But the academy says time is running out for obtaining new knowledge to assure maximum protection against increased hazards expected in the next two decades as atomic power plants spring up.

It also mentioned the "continuance" of H-bomb tests, but offered no estimates of how long they would go on.

The job of coming up with answers calls for the combined efforts of weathermen, oceanographers, agricultural scientists and experts in the disposal of radioactive wastes, the academy says.

The academy, in its recent report on hazards inherent in radiation of any kind, listed radiation from atomic bomb tests, nuclear power plants, medical Xrays, and from naturally radioactive materials in the ground and atmosphere.

Elsewhere in its report, the academy said there is a need for greater technical improvements to assure against serious—and conceivably even catastrophic — accidental releases of radioactivity from atomic reactors. Present reactor safeguards have had a very fine record, but protective measures could stand improvement, the report said.

Concerning radiation once released — whether from reactors, reactor waste or "garbage," or from bomb tests — the academy said this:

Between the potential sources of man-made radiation and the people of the world there's a vast complex "connecting network" of air, water, and the plant and animal life which form the links in the chain of our food supply.

In stressing the need for more research on the workings of the radiation-bearing "network," the academy said:

"We must know more about how the winds or the ocean currents move, how plants and animals may concentrate radioactivity and transport it from one place to another.

Aeronca, Union Sign New Contract

MIDDLETOWN (AP) — Aeronca Manufacturing Corp. has signed a new contract with the United Auto Workers calling for wage increase of 17 cents an hour.

The contract, for two years, covers approximately 1,800 workers in Middletown and Miamitown, it was said.

The present wage scale for UAW employes ranges from $1.65 to $2.74 an hour.

Ex-Bank Teller Arrested By FBI

PAINESVILLE (AP) — Charged with embezzling Mrs. Eleanor T. Fussner, 32, a former teller at the Cleveland Trust Co. branch here, has been arrested by FBI agents.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Loren E. Van Brocklin said an FBI audit showed a shortage of $10,317 in her accounts over four years, although the charge was on the specific theft of $450.

Pravda Reprints Critical Article

MOSCOW (AP)— Pravda has reprinted an article demanding to know what the present Soviet leaders did, if anything, to stop the excesses of the last years of Stalin's rule.

The organ of the Communist party reprinted an article which Eugene Dennis wrote for the New York Daily Worker asking the question.

It was the first time the current leadership has been publicly criticized here, even by implication, and marks a radical shift in the traditional Soviet attitude.

Toy Station Wagon Too Attractive For Little Boy, 5

ST. LOUIS (AP)—There was a toy station wagon in the window of a juvenile department store and a 5-year-old boy outside.

The lad, who "wanted to see how it would run," was tempted. He found an iron rod and smashed a hole in the window Wednesday night, squirmed through unharmed.

Police found the boy happily sitting in the station wagon inside the store but they couldn't get to him. The hole in the window was too small.

They called the manager, who opened the door. The boy was released to the custody of his parents.

Trapped Man Dies In Reefer Truck

BALTIMORE (AP)—A short time after a refrigerated truck left a plant here for Wilmington, Del., employes noticed that a maintenance man was missing.

State police were asked to check the truck. It was intercepted just across the state line in Delaware.

Locked in the refrigerated compartment officers found Thomas Hock, 34—dead.

Police said he had made a terrific struggle to get out. He had torn a foot-wide hole through plywood sheathing and insulation of the door, but he had been unable to pierce the metal outer shell.

It was not immediately determined whether he had suffocated or frozen. He was the father of three children.

2 Youngsters Die In Home Freezer

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Jenkins returned home from work Wednesday and found her two children suffocated in a home freezer. Neighbors said Mrs. Jenkins had cleaned the freezer and left the lid up to air it out. The children, Sandra, 8, and Gregory, 6, apparently climbed in and one of them let the lid fall shut, police said.

Bounce Counts In Hot National Loop Scramble

Long Victory Streak Of Braves Failing To Keep Them Safe Ahead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It isn't how long a winning streak that counts in the major league pennant races this season — it's how fast you can bounce back from defeat.

Take that madcap National League scramble. Milwaukee's Braves had run up 11 straight successes before being jolted by Philadelphia. Then the Phils laid the wood to 'em again Wednesday night, 4-3 in 11 innings, and for all their hustle the Braves have no more than a half-game hold on first place.

Cincinnati lies just 12 percentage points back after routing Pittsburgh 10-2. And if the Redlegs, who have won five of their last six games, can do it again tonight while the Braves are idle, they'll grab back the NL lead.

Brooklyn's Dodgers closed to within 1½ games of Milwaukee by beating Chicago 6-2. That gave the Brooks a sweep of the three-game set with the Cubs after a double-header loss to Cincinnati Sunday.

In the other NL game, St.Louis walloped New York 6-0 with three home runs and Tom Poholsky's five-hitter.

In the American League, the New York Yankees whipped Kansas City and strengthened their lead to 2½ games as the Chicago White Sox were beaten 11-9 by Boston after winning nine in a row. The White Sox, who swept four from the Yanks for New York's only losses on the just-ended Western trip, picked up only three games.

Cleveland's Indians made it eight straight victories since the Yankees left town by overcoming an eight-run Baltimore lead to bop the Orioles 12-11 in 11 innings. And Detroit's Tigers staggered through their 11th start without victory, losing to Washington 3-1.

Willie Jones, Andy Seminick and Stan Lopata homered for the Phils. Lopata's No. 14 shot clearing the left field stands to break a 3-all tie gained by Philadelphia on a double by Jim Greengrass in the ninth. Johnny Logan and Hank Aaron homered for the Braves. Negray won his first and Ernie Johnson lost his second, both in relief.

Gus Bell, Frank Robinson and Stan Palys each drove in two runs in a nine-run eighth inning that won for Cincinnati. The Redlegs used six hits and four Buc errors to overcome a 2-1 Pirate lead and hand Bob Friend his fifth defeat. Danny Kravitz homered and hit a sacrifice fly for the Pirates, who have lost 10 of 11.

Four runs in the fourth, pushed along by two Cub errors, won for Brooklyn in a game delayed almost 2½ hours by rain. Roger Craig was the winner, Warren Hacker the loser.

Ken Boyer hit two of the Card homers and drove in three runs to take the NL home run lead with 19 and the RBI top spot with 57. Johnny Antonelli lost his seventh. Poholsky, now 5-5, walked but one and hit a two-run double.

A sacrifice fly by Billy Martin after a triple by Tom Sturdivant who won his fifth, broke a 2-all tie for the Yanks in the fifth inning. Hank Bauer put it away with his 16th homer in the eighth off loser Art Ditmar. Mickey Mantle singled ahead of Bauer's homer for his only hit in three trips.

Boston blew a 7-0 lead, then came on with three in the eighth for the White Sox's second defeat in a 14-game home stand. Ted Williams was 4-for-5 while Jimmy Piersall and Billy Klaus each had three RBIs for the Red Sox. Dave Philley drove in four for the Chisox, who used seven pitchers. Millard Howell lost it. Ike DeLock won it, in relief.

The Indians finally topped the Orioles in Chico Carrasquel's fifth hit, a single that scored Al Rosen. That pair had nine of Cleveland's 17 hits. Don Mossi, Cleveland's sixth pitcher, won it while Hec Brown lost his first for a 4-1 mark.

Pete Runnels, who homered, and Roy Sievers each had two hits—half of Washington's total off loser Frank Lary and Duke Masa.

Chestnut Scores Surprise Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ike Chestnut and his walloping right hand were steaming today for another crack at a ranking featherweight.

Chestnut, the unrated underdog, stopped fourth-ranking Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn here last night on a TKO in 29 seconds of the eighth round in a scheduled 10.

"I'm ready for anybody they give me," Chestnut said.

"And that includes Sandy Saddler," added beaming Manager Hymie Wallman.

Saddler is featherweight king.

Romping Reds Trip Pirates, Gain In Race

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cincinnati's romping Redlegs trounced the Pittsburgh Pirates 10-2 last night to move within half a game of the National League lead.

The league-leading Milwaukee Braves meanwhile bowed to Philadelphia 4-3.

The Pirates who came apart at the seams in the eighth inning, made a total of five errors and wound up with an infielder pitching. Johnny O'Brien pitched the ninth and didn't allow a hit.

For seven innings it was a tight pitching duel between Pittsburgh's Bob Friend and Cincinnati's Brooks Lawrence. The Pirates had a 2-1 lead when the eighth started.

Fourteen Redlegs batted in that inning. There were six singles, two of them by Wally Post, and four Pittsburgh errors as the Redlegs tallied nine times.

The Reds had the unusual situation of a pinch hitter batting for a pinch hitter. George Crowe batted for Lawrence to start the inning and fanned, but by the time he was due up again Pittsburgh had southpaw Louis Arroyo on the mound so Palys batted for Crowe and drove in two runs.

Danny Kravitz scored Pittsburgh's first run with a homer in the third. The Reds tied it up in the sixth on Bell's triple and Kluszewski's infield out, but Kravitz again put the Pirates ahead in the seventh with a sacrifice fly that scored Walls.

Tuesday night's postponed game will be played tonight with Johnny Klippstein due to pitch against George Munger.

Collegiate Golf Leaders Face Test

COLUMBUS (AP) — The 59th National Intercollegiate Golf Championship went into the marathon stage today.

Two rounds of 18-hole matches were due to cut the field to eight by nightfall. And, by day's end, either medalist Rex Baxter Jr., of Houston, or defending champion Joe Campbell of Purdue—perhaps both—will be sidelined.

If the two stalwarts survive the morning round, they'll tangle in the afternoon.

Carrasquel Shining Now For Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—Chico Carrasquel, hitting star of the Cleveland Indians' 12-11 comeback win over the Baltimore Orioles yesterday, was just tuning up for a five-game series with the Chicago White Sox starting tomorrow.

"Now that I start to hit, everything looks better," said the rangy shortstop who drove in the winning run in the 11th inning with the fifth hit of the day.

The hard won victory ran third-place Cleveland's winning streak to eight straight.

Carrasquel, obtained with Jim Busby from the White Sox for Larry Doby last winter, has a special reason for wanting to look good against his former teammates this weekend.

The games will be broadcast back to his native Venezuela, where he used to play side-by-side with Luis Aparicio, his replacement at Chicago. Aparicio has been getting most of the publicity in the homeland recently.

Three of Carrasquel's hits figured in the scoring yesterday. He singled and scored in the fourth, doubled and scored the tying run in the eighth, and singled in Al Rosen from second base with the winning run in the 11th.

DISTRICT LAW OFFICIALS SET PINBALL DEADLINE

Hunt Continues For Slayer In Warren Area

Volunteer Possemen Too Numerous; Sheriff Regroups Search Units

WARREN (AP) — The search for triple killer Alfred Wilson was continuing doggedly here today, but the manpower involved was cut sharply.

So many volunteers turned out last night in answer to a radio report Wilson was sighted 12 miles northwest of here, the possemen were getting in one another's way.

Traffic was snarled and some police cars found it difficult to move through the crowds.

Trumbull County Sheriff T. Herbert Thomas watched the operation proceed for about two hours then called off the mass hunt and said it would be the last such effort. He said he had to do that "before someone gets shot by mistake."

Later, deputies met in Leavittsburg and reorganized on a smaller scale with close liaison. That will be the way the future search will be conducted if Sheriff Thomas has his way — with a group of about 25.

* * *

"WE WILL HUNT steadily for Wilson, but we will do it with men under our control," Thomas said. "No volunteers should turn out unless someone in authority asks them. We will let the people know if we need them."

Last night's big effort was inspired by a report from Trumbull Deputy Sheriff John Profato that he saw Wilson leaving a barn near Braceville about 5 p. m.

Authorities believe he still is in the area, although the hunt has expanded across state lines.

The State Highway Patrol launched an intensive manhunt in the Mount Blanchard area southeast of Findlay early today after a man resembling the triple killer was seen in a restaurant.

The patrol said ten cars and 15 men were sent to the area.

Speakman Warns Street Dumpers

Service Department Head Says Illegal Habit Now 'Out Of Hand'

City Service Director Dewey Speakman today declared that his department has "finally had enough" of those residents who "dump their rubbish into the street and then complain because we don't collect it."

Speakman said the violation, tolerated off and on for many years in the community, is found "almost anywhere you want to go in Circleville." He stressed it is against the law to take rubbish of any kind from private premises and dump it into the street.

The service department, Speakman pointed out, is obligated only to clean up the dirt and litter that accumulates normally in the street.

"When people want to rid up the gutters in front of their homes—when they pile up whatever is in the gutter so that it makes it easier to collect—we naturally appreciate it. It makes our job easier.

* * *

"BUT WE'VE finally had enough of those people who somehow get the idea that we're a rubbish collection agency for anything they want to toss into the street—shrubbery, tree limbs, waste paper; almost anything."

To clamp an immediate halt on the practice, Speakman obtained a copy of the city ordinance involved and planned to show it to City Court Judge Sterling M. Lamb. It provides fines ranging from $10 to $50 for violations.

Speakman said he has asked for strict enforcement of the law because "this street-dumping idea has got 'way out of hand during the past few months—far beyond what we're willing to tolerate."

The service department chief added:

"We know too that it isn't always the fault of the resident where you find the rubbish and litter. Only the other day a man called my attention to the way one of his neighbors dumped odds and ends of shrubbery into the street and let the stuff blow down in front of the other home.

"In such cases, naturally, we're not going to prosecute the innocent parties. But I mean what I say when I warn that I'm ready to start filing charges against those at fault.

"We figure we need at least one case as an example to show we aren't fooling."

* * *

SPEAKMAN meanwhile revealed that North Annex residents are now "cooperating nearly 100 percent" in the city's drive to detach illegal sewers in that end of the community. Council has ordered Speakman to do something about the large amount of storm water which finds its way into sanitary sewers in the newly added section.

The service department chief, in turn, sent letters to "40-some" home owners, but for a time it appeared that only 10 or 12 were willing to cooperate.

Speakman thereupon warned publicly he was ready to file charges.

"And now", he said, "almost all of them have indicated that they will cooperate in the work. I've heard from just about all of them, I guess, and I imagine the others will be getting in touch with me too.

"About 10 have yet to reply to my letters."

City law provides heavy fines for those who knowingly continue to use an illegal sewer tap.

Harriman Seen Forcing Adlai On Race Issue

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — New York's Gov. Averell Harriman appears to be focusing his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination on the hope that Adlai E. Stevenson's supporters will break apart on civil rights.

Harriman made little political progress on the surface at the 48th annual Governors Conference which ended here yesterday. But he pounded away on his theme that the party must take a strong stand on civil rights.

The New York governor's strategists professed to believe that if that issue is pushed to the forefront at the Chicago convention, so much pressure will be put on Stevenson he will be forced into a stand alienating either Northern or Southern support.

If a wedge can be driven into the Stevenson ranks, Harriman's backers seem to be willing to risk a convention walkout and face the prospect of losing some Southern states in November.

$48½ Million OKd For Cancer Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has appropriated $48½ million for cancer research during the coming year in a money bill sent to the White House.

The compromise bill provides $4,366,380,781 to finance the Labor Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the fiscal year starting Sunday.

The House and Senate each approved the measure by voice.

Medical Expense Ruling Returned

COLUMBUS (AP) — Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill ruled today a county must pay medical expenses of a prisoner sent to county jail by a mayor's or municipal court for violating state law.

The opinion was rendered to Clinton County Prosecutor G. L. Schilling. If it was a city ordinance that was violated, the city must pay medical expenses, the O'Neill ruling declared.

Southwest Hit By 150 New Forest Fires

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Forest Service officials and an army of 2,500 men fought an unprecedented rash of about 150 fires in Arizona and New Mexico today.

Most of the fires were caused by lightning and ranged from less than an acre to 4,800 acres.

"This is undoubtedly the worst time we've had in region history," said M. H. Davis, assistant forester. "Our people are getting very fatigued. Fires are breaking out almost faster than we can keep abreast."

The largest was a 4,800-acre fire on Graham Mountain, south of Safford, Ariz. It broke out two weeks ago and was brought under control a few days ago. Then, late yesterday, wind up to 60 miles an hour fanned it wild again.

Army To Send 100 Bandsmen To Fall Fiesta

1956 Pumpkin Show Rapidly Growing Into Giant Event

If anybody had any doubts about the 1956 Golden Jubilee Pumpkin Show being a jam-packed fiesta, Bob Colville ended all the wondering today.

"Mr. Pumpkin Show" has received confirmation that the famed U. S. Army Field Band will be here for the 50th anniversary of Circleville's world-known celebration. But the news was even better than expected.

Colville thought the band, in big demand all over the country, would only be able to make a one-day stop here. But Lt. Col. John A. Meads Jr. of the Army's Special Projects Branch made it clear that the musicians will be here for all four days of the show.

The band has approximately 100 members.

* * *

OCTOBER 17 is the opening date set for this year's anniversary show, already shaping up as a tremendous program with nationally known individuals and groups listed in the highlights.

Colville said he hoped to announce more new features in the near future.

The letter confirming that the Army Band will be on hand said that an advance officer will be here this Summer to complete arrangements for billeting the musicians.

Size of the band is indicated by the fact that it travels in a convoy of four buses, three trucks and two sedans.

Private Nuclear Reactor Working

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's first private nuclear reactor for industrial research went into operation today.

The event gave American industry the first green light to conduct reactor studies without government security restrictions.

The 50,000-watt reactor is at the Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology on Chicago's near South Side. It is the first to be constructed in a highly populated area since the world's first reactor was operated under wartime secrecy at Stagg Field at the University of Chicago.

2 Soldiers Fail To Go Straight

DAYTON (AP) — Two soldiers, Kenneth E. Biddle, 18, of Urbana, and James A. Carnell, 17, of Marion, refused to go straight yesterday.

They were driving on Ohio 35 through Dayton when a city patrol safety car equipped with a loudspeaker boomed out:

"The light Pontiac in the center lane has the straight arrow. Will you proceed east please" — or in other words, continue straight.

The soldiers turned left. Patrolmen stopped them, discovered they were absent without leave from Fort Campbell, Ky.

The pair is being held in jail.

Ohioans Enthused About Shakespeare

TOLEDO (AP) — Ohioans flocked to see Shakespeare under the stars last night, as two troupes of Antioc Theater actors opened seven-week festivals in Toledo and Yellow Springs. The combined audiences totalled nearly 3,000.

The company, which started out at Antioch College four summers ago, found a ready audience in their first performance in northwest Ohio. About 2,000 attended "Much Ado about Nothing" in the Toledo Zoo Amphitheater.

Another 1,000 saw "All's Well That Ends Well" at the college in Yellow Springs where the theater got its start in 1952.

Little Hope Seen For War I Pension Bill OKd By House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects seemed dim for Senate action on a House-passed pension bill with a special $90-a-month provision for World War I veterans.

Proposals for bigger payments to service-disabled veterans and to veterans' widows and dependents were stripped from the measure during a turbulent session yesterday in which the House passed it and sent it to the Senate by a 364-51 rollcall vote.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), whose Finance Committee handles veterans' bills in the Senate, said his group will consider the pension bill "as soon as we can find a time to take it up."

But Byrd noted that the Senate committee already has a long list of items requiring its attention. This late in the session a major bill usually stands small chance of becoming law unless it is already well advanced.

Chairman Olin E. Teague of the House Veterans Affairs Committee said the stripped-down bill as passed by the House would cost $365 million the first year.

* * *

IT WOULD RAISE to $75 a month the present $66.15 non-service-connected pension for veterans rated permanently and totally disabled, and to $90 a month the present $78.75 pension for such veterans who have reached age 65 or who have been on the pension rolls for 10 continuous years.

A 10 per cent premium would be added for overseas service of 30 days or more. The pensions would go only to veterans whose yearly incomes are below the present legal ceilings — $1,400 if single or $2,700 with dependents.

Those so helpless as to require regular aid and attendance of another person would get a $15-a-month pension increase to $150.

All World War I veterans would become eligible for the $90 pension at age 65 if they met the income qualifications.

There are about three million World War I veterans out of the 22 million total for all wars and their average age is nearing 65.

Lausche Asking New Banking Tax

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche today appeared before the Ohio Legislature to recommend a tax relief program for local governments based on an increase in the state's tax on deposits in financial institutions.

He did not recommend an appropriation to overcome a nearly $4 million loss in local government taxes for this year. Nor did he recommend that the Legislature take action toward the purchase of the Lake Erie resort of Cedar Point at this time.

He did expand the legislative call to:

The governor did open the door for a possible appropriation for this year when he said:

"If appropriating moneys out of the general fund is to become the alternate solution to this problem, then I respectfully point out to you that the burden of the adverse decisions will have to be borne predominantly by those paying the sales and other excise taxes and will be suffered by the aged, the mentally sick and the school."

1. Authorize municipalities to sell water to consumers outside municipal boundaries without limitations.

2. Correct a typographical error in a 1955 act which conveyed certain canal lands to the city of St. Bernard.

Lausche's recommendation for an increase in the state deposits tax was contrary to a plan suggested yesterday by the Republican-dominated Legislative Service Commission.

* * *

THAT COMMISSION recommended the re-enactment, after revision, of the same tax on financial institutions which was knocked out by two Ohio Supreme Court decisions.

Lausche told the lawmakers:

"Frankly, I have grave apprehension about the validity of a bill which by legislative fiat attempts to affix the ownership of individuals in mutual financial associations or any associations. . . .

"However, assuming that a law of that type will be held constitutional by the courts I can not agree with the proposal that the recapturing of the windfall to Ohio financial institutions should be limited to six million dollars."

Legsilative leaders have been intending to recommend a special tax on the shares of financial institutions for two years to recoup about half of the prospective $12½ million tax loss.

Army Readies 'Antimissile'

Counterweapon Planned For Use In 1960-61

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has high hope for countering the coming menace of the intercontinental ballistic missile armed with an H-bomb warhead.

It predicted such an antimissile system will be ready in four or five years.

The Senate subcommittee investigating U.S.-Russian air power released last night previously secret testimony by the Army's specialists in missiles and missile defense development.

Included was the statement of the chief of the air defense branch of the Army's missile division, Lt. Col. Woodrow B. Sigley, that the Army is "confident" it will have a counterweapon ready in time to "meet the described threat" of the ICBM in 1960 or 1961.

Censors deleted portions of the testimony which apparently dealt with details of Army progress toward producing an antimissile system. It was assumed, however, that the Army was describing its Nike II missile.

$250 Federal Gambling Tax On Pinballs

CLEVELAND (AP) — The federal government can call "tilt" if the pinball machine which pays off in free games does not have a federal "gaming" license attached.

Many of the machines carry a federal amusement license, such as those required for coin-operated juke boxes. These cost $10 a year.

The gaming license is more expensive—$250 annually.

A. M. Stoepler, acting district director for the Internal Revenue Service in Cleveland, said the government has considered any device with "any sort of payoff" a gaming machine and subject to the more expensive license.

He indicated the recent ruling by the Ohio Supreme Court that pinball machines which paid off in free games did not effect the revenue department's position on requiring the gaming stamps.

Asked if the department was contemplating a crackdown on the devices which carry only the amusement stamp, Stoepler replied:

"We are always searching every field to seek compliance with all internal revenue laws."

The long-range budget proposal passed unanimously late yesterday in the form of a recommendation to the church's fiscal conference. It covers the years 1957 through 1962.

The conference which is expected to meet this summer in St. Louis is the body which actually will set up the budget.

The total, broken down to yearly allocations, represents an increase each year of some 10 per cent over the previous year.

Money-Counter Crashes Window

WASHINGTON C. H. (AP) — Frank Mootispaw, 54, was too intent on counting his money and he landed in a doctor's office for treatment of leg, head and hand cuts.

Mootispaw cashed a check in a local bank, and was leaving, counting his money, when he walked right through a big plate glass window.

The window, adjoining the door at floor level, was shattered.

Mootispaw came up $10 short in his cash, but it was found amid bits of glass by a bystander.

Possessing, Playing Will Be Illegal Here, Statement Warns

Top law enforcement officers in Circleville and Pickaway County served notice today that action will be taken, after noon next Thursday, against "any person found possessing, exhibiting or playing" pinball machines.

A prepared statement to this effect was issued by Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer. In addition to the prosecutor, the statement was signed by Pickaway County Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff and Circleville Police Chief Elmer Merriman.

Ammer pointed out that pinball machines which offered prizes were illegal even before the recent State Supreme Court decision against pinball machines which offer free games.

The statement appealed for the cooperation of the public in the strict enforcement of the new ruling and warned that violations will not be "tolerated."

THE statement signed by the three officials follows:

"The Supreme Court of Ohio on June 6, 1956, in the case of Westhaus Company, Inc., vs. City of Cincinnati, Ohio, ruled that pinball machines which offer free games for high scores are gambling devices under the Ohio law. The decision of the Supreme Court of Ohio is the law of this state since the ruling was made by the highest court of the State of Ohio.

"This ruling as to pinball machines having been made by the Supreme Court of Ohio thus places a legal duty upon the following named officials to enforce the law of the State of Ohio as pronounced by the Ohio Court.

"In view of said ruling, the undersigned hereby give notice to all persons in Circleville and Pickaway County that pinball machines which offer free games for high scores being gambling devices must be removed from any and all places where the same have been or may be exhibited.

"Failure to remove said machines from any location in Circleville and Pickaway County by not later than July 5, 1956, at 12:00 p. m. will result in action being taken by the following named law enforcement officials by which said machines will be confiscat-

2 Solons Chided For Rap At Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph L. Rauh Jr., chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, has described as "arrant nonsense" a charge by two senators that the Supreme Court has been handing down "pro-Communist" decisions.

Rauh, testifying at Senate Internal Security Subcommittee hearing, contended attacks on the court have reached a "violent pitch" because of its defense of individual rights.

He said that attacks on the court's decisions as "pro-Communist" by Sens. Eastland (D-Miss) and McCarthy (R-Wis) were clear evidence of a continuing drive "to discredit the court."

Big Steel Set To Cool Off Its Furnaces

Negotiators Pressing To Avoid Walkout Due Saturday Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio's steelmakers, with one-fifth of the nation's production capacity, today made plans for the orderly shutdown of mills if a strike should come Saturday midnight.

Steel companies and the United Steelworkers of America are negotiating in New York for a new contract.

A check of 13 Ohio plants, with three-fourths of the state's production, indicated no banking operations as yet. But Republic Steel has cut in half its coke-making operations in Canton.

Paul Martin, assistant to the plant superintendent of Jones & Laughlin, Cleveland, said plans call for the last push of the coke ovens Saturday evening. The last casts from the blast furnaces are expected Saturday noon. The open hearth will continue through the last "turn" of 3 to 11 p. m. Bloom mill and strip operations and the finishing divisions are expected to work through 11 p. m. Saturday.

* * *

UNITED STATES Steel in Cleveland expects to start its banking program tonight with the gradual shutdown of blast furnaces.

All steel-making equipment must be carefully cooled to prevent cracking and damaging. Even with care, however, some equipment will be damaged, especially the coke ovens.

Both sides worked frantically in New York last night to avert a shutdown and each blamed the other when the efforts ended in stalemate.

Twelve major companies began the exchange of compromise proposals by suggesting in a letter to Union President David J. McDonald that the strike be postponed indefinitely and negotiations continued after the contract expires at midnight Saturday.

The letter suggested that during the negotiations the union give 72 hours advance written notice of a strike any time after the deadline to prevent cooling damage to furnaces.

The companies promised in turn to shorten their demands for a five-year contract to four years and four months "with a proportionate reduction in benefits."

Length of the contract has been a major bone of contention. The current contract is for two years, with a one-year wage reopener.

McDonald rejected the companies' proposal as an "11th-hour" offer that "meets none of the union's reasoned objections to their original proposal."

He countered by offering to put off the strike for two weeks (until July 16) provided any agreement reached in the extended negotiations was retroactive to July 1, the original strike deadline.

The companies studied this for three hours and rejected it because of the retoractive idea.

Ike Shows Up At Window Of Army Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's doctors report he has started to gain weight for the first time since his operation.

This encouraging news came as the President, after making the first public appearance of his hospital stay, prepared to leave Walter Reed Army Hospital Saturday morning and continue recuperation at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

A medical bulletin said:

"His condition continues to progress satisfactorily. His spirits and morale are high."

They certainly appeared high last night when he popped his head through the open window of his hospital room and waved a salute to a small crowd and the Army band, which had lured him into public view for the first time with a rendition of "Army Blue."

Ohio Motorists Reminded On Gas Tax Hike

The federal tax on gasoline will go up 1-cent a gallon Sunday as part of the $13 billion increase in federal automobile taxes enacted by Congress this year for financing the 13-year federal highway program.

This increase, added to the present 2-cent federal tax and the 5-cent state tax, will bring total state and federal taxes in Ohio to 8 cents a gallon. This is equivalent to about a 38 percent sales tax on gasoline.

The Ohio gas tax, first imposed at a 2-cent rate in 1925, brought in only $13,257,000 the first full year it was in effect.

Now, with this new increase in the federal tax, highway users of this state will be paying an estimated $216 million a year—about 16 times as much—in state and federal taxes on gasoline.

* * *

THE 1-CENT federal increase, expected to yield more than half a billion dollars a year nationally, will bring to about 81 million the amount of federal gas tax collected annually in Ohio.

Motorists have a great stake in highways and they are paying for them. The present tax hike is the nineth general increase in gas tax rates motorists of this state have been called on to pay ni the 31 years that gasoline has been taxed here.

Roadblock Halts Pair Of Bandits

GREEN LANE, Pa. (AP) — Police threw up a road block 15 miles east of here following a $3,800 armed robbery of the Green Lane First National Bank yesterday and captured two Akron men.

The two, identified as Charles Musselman, 36, and Roy Furlong, 38, were taken to the jail in Lansdale after their capture.

J. Stanley Schoelkopf, president of the bank, said the two gunmen apparently followed him into the bank at 12:50 p. m. They scooped up a large sum of money from a cashier's cage, then forced Schoelkopf to open the vault where they took more cash.

As "Dairy Month" draws to a close in Summer style, let us pause to recognize that ice cream contains all of the important nutrients of milk, only in different proportions. After the pause, let's all go shopping for ingredients for a "Strawberry Blonde," a "Peach Smoothie," or maybe a "Purple Cow."

To make a "Strawberry Blonde," add 2 or 3 tablespoons of crushed strawberries to a glass of cold milk and stir well. Top with a scoop of strawberry ice cream for a beverage that's "extra special."

A "Peach Smoothie" is easy to make by mixing until smooth ½ package thawed, frozen peaches, 1 cup crushed ice, 1 cup milk and 1 tablespoon of lemon juice.

The "Purple Cow" is made by combining ½ cup cold grape juice, ½ cup ginger ale and 1 cup milk. Stir into this mixture 2 scoops of ice cream and serve immediately.

Research shows that persons who are not well fed in this country most often lack calcium. Nutritionists report that "double milk" beverages are an excellent source of calcium.

"Double Milk" is made by adding 4 tablespoons of dry milk powder to one cup of fluid milk, and stirring thoroughly. Fruit flavoring can be added to make a more taste-teasing beverage.

A "Buttermilk Fruit Shake" provides nutrition with the minimum of calories. The formula is: combine 4 cups buttermilk with the juice of 1 lemon and 2 oranges, and salt and sugar to taste. Mix well and chill.

One is never too old for milk. Children need a quart a day and adults at least a pint a day to maintain good health.

Dry milk solids—either non-fat or whole—provide a means of adding milk to the diets of those who do not like or prefer milk in the liquid form. Anyway, we should eat or drink milk to provide and maintain a firm foundation for body and good health. Some commercial companies even enrich milk with vitamin D to ensure their customers proper use of calcium.

Gardens, orchards and farm fields in Ohio have just about reached their full rate of productive growth. Locally grown fruits and vegetables are beginning to come to market in peak volume at their garden fresh best quality.

Most food experts will tell you that food which reaches its proper stage of maturity on the vine or tree, is harvested and eaten or preserved as soon afterward as possible normally has an excellent flavor and high nutritive value. During these Summer months of plentiful supplies and relatively reasonable prices many homemakers can, freeze, or otherwise preserve for wintertime eating some of the abundant Ohio grown items.

* * *

Genuine homemade bread can now be prepared without much home making! The new type mix contains enough material for two loaves and is accompanied by a reusable aluminum pan. Also included is a packet of cinnamon mix and one of garlic powder to provide the homemaker the privilege of a small scale flavor selection. After ten minutes of preparation and one hour of baking, the bread is ready to serve.

Do most shoppers shop accompanied by the ready knowledge of what a good food buy is? A good food buy is one that suits family tastes, time and facilities, is nutritionally sound; is of suitable quality and quantity; and is available at the lowest possible price under the best conditions of sale for the family shopper.

Lorain Leaders To Honor Admiral

LORAIN (AP)—A Navy plane will fly a delegation of 40 persons to Washington tomorrow to attend the funeral of Admiral Ernest J. King, the city's most famous native son. King 77, died Monday in Portsmouth, N. H.

All city flags here are to fly at half staff for a 30-day period, and the mayor has requested that church bells be rung tomorrow at the time of the funeral. A brief memorial service will be held this evening in Washington Park.

Idle Pay Claims Showing Decline

COLUMBUS (AP)—New claimants for unemployment compensation dropped from 8,783 for the week ended June 16 to 7,226 for the week ended June 23, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports.

Continuing claims dropped from 48,574 to 47,853.

The total of continuing claims does not include those persons who have received maximum benefits and still may be unemployed.

Abortionist Given Term In Prison

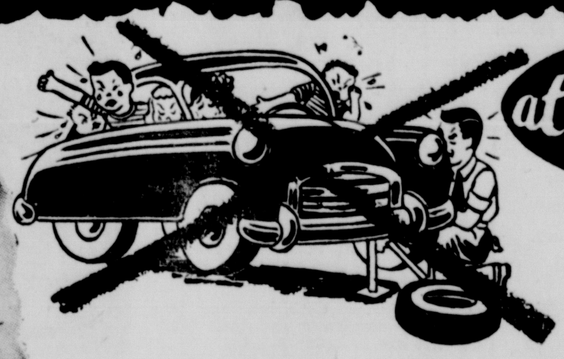

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo Pijuan, 46, who performed a fatal abortion on 20-year-old Jacqueline Smith and disposed of her dismembered body in garbage cans, has been sentenced to 7½ to 15 years in prison.

His codefendant, Thomas G. Daniel, 25, Miss Smith's boy friend, was sentenced Tuesday to 8½ to 20 years in prison.

Pijuan interrupted his trial to plead guilty to first degree manslaughter and testified for the prosecution.

World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles can hop from one extreme to another without visible effort. This time it was on the question: Is Russia losing its grip on Communists outside Russia?

He said: Two months ago—the satellites were "still under the iron heel of Soviet force"; six days ago—the 'forces of despotism are more highly organized than ever"; Wednesday—Russia's hold on world communism is "gravely imperiled."

With that optimistic statement he seemed to help the new Red line laid down by Moscow: that Red parties everywhere should act like national parties doing their own thinking.

It is possible in time that Communist parties outside Russia will be independent, will quarrel among themselves and with Russia, and that international communism may disintegrate.

For once the Kremlin relaxes its control—and no one can be sure that has happened yet — it may open a door which can never be closed.

No one, including Dulles, can be dogmatic about that yet. There's not enough evidence for it yet.

On what did he base his switch? All that's known to have happened recently is this: Red leaders in Italy, France, East Germany, Britain and the United States asked critical questions of the new bosses in Russia:

"Since you were the most trusted aides of Stalin during all those years of the crimes you now say he committed, what did you do to stop them? And what role did you play in them?"

But these were the minimum questions the Red leaders outside Russia could ask because they were the msot obvious ones. They were being asked all around the world by Communist rank-and-filers and non-Communists alike.

The Red leaders outside Russia —except Yugoslavia's Tito who had broken with Stalin—had not only been Stalin's obedient yesmen through the years of his crimes but his undeviating supporters.

It was because they didn't deviate that they remained leaders. So the questions they asked of Stalin's he is in the Kremlin were really the same questions being asked of them by their own countrymen and their own party members.

Their questions to Nikita Khrushchev, Russian Communist party boss who made the revelations about Stalin, can be interpreted as a request to Khrushchev to take them off the spot by giving answers that will satisfy their own countrymen.

When Khrushchev and his colleagues in Moscow decided — it took them three years after Stalin's death—to disclose his crimes, they certainly must have known what they were doing.

They must have known that in stripping Stalin naked before history, they were raising doubts about themselves — and all Red leaders everywhere who had been Stalin's errand boys — and that questions about their roles in Stalin's career would be asked.

It is possible that they have the answers ready and will give them when they think best. It is also possible they arranged for the Red leaders outside Russia to ask the questions they did.

Dulles said Wednesday the questions raised by Red leaders in the non-Communist countires — although they were almost identical —"were not a prearranged pattern at all."

Unless he has information not known to the public, he is stating an opinion and not a fact. He is also creating an optimism which may have no basis in reality.

Chairman Notes Success Of Bond Program

"Just 15 years ago," reports Judge William D. Radcliff, chairman of the Pickaway County Savings Bonds Cimmittee, "the Series E Savings Bond was launched as a peacetime defense program, and when the smoke had cleared at Pearl Habor we saw the program go into dramatic action as a method of financing the war effort.

"Throughout the nation in 1941, sales of the E Bond reached a little more than $1 billion dollars. Today we find the people of the United States holding approximately $38 billion in just the Series E Bond alone.

"In '41 our dreams were of peace and then, when the war was terminated, we all had our individual dreams of buying a home, raising a family, education and countless other things.

"During the post war years we have all found that savings bonds have helped us to realize these big dreams. No other savings plan has been as successful as the United States Savings Bonds Program."

* * *

THE COUNTY chairman pointed out that sales of Series E and H Bonds during 1955 were the highest in peacetime, and that so far in 1956 sales were just 3.2 percent below the first five months of last year. In Ohio the May sales of the E and H series were just over $26 million, about one million less than May, 1955.

Outstanding among the industrial counties was Summit County with sales of over $2 million, while Medina, Vinton and Ottawa lead the state in percentage of sales attainment. Sales in Pickaway County for May were $60,959.

Lone Passenger In No Big Hurry

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I. (AP) — It took the motor vessel Sprigg Carroll 13 hours Wednesday to go from Providence to Block Island — a normal five-hour run — while carrying only one passenger.

Eleven other passengers disembarked at Newport on the mainland, where the vessel was delayed six hours while its clogged cooling system was flushed.

The hardy passenger who stayed with the vessel was not identified.

Georgian Killed

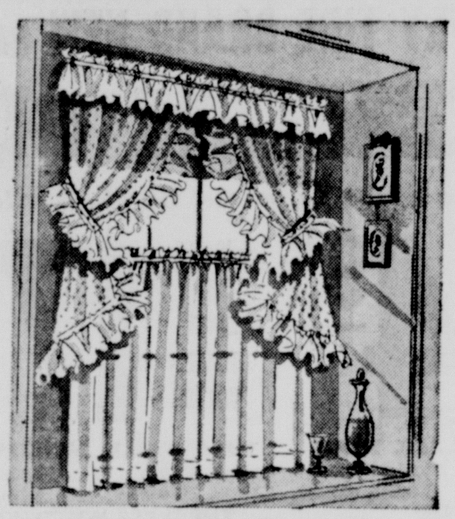

HILLSBORO (AP) — Mrs. Nellie Dietz, 59, of Atlanta, Ga., was killed near Leesburg yesterday as the auto in which she was riding overturned on a curve. Her husband, Edward Deatz, 73, the driver, was not hurt seriously.

Expert Reviews U.S. Economy

Business Taking Cautious Look At Last Half Of '56

(Editor's Note: Sam Dawson, Associated Press business analyst, who has been touring the nation to find out the situation first hand, reviews his findings in two articles, of which the following is the first.

By SAM DAWSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Business around the nation is taking a more cautious but still hopeful look today at the second half of the year.

A flash recession has rolled down on some industries, notably autos and farm machinery. But while they seek to regain their feet most of the rest of the economy has gone marching right along. The pace isn't as breakbeck as last year. And there have been some laggards, such as housing, home appliances and textiles.

Uncertainty in steel—strike or peace, price hikes, inventory buildups, the trend in customer demand—and uncertainty in politics keep businessmen closely watching the news tickers at mid year.

There are other parts of the economy, notably agriculture, where the problems are deep rooted. But even the farmers now hope that the worst is over, at least.

At mid year the popular prediction is for a quiet summer followed by a resurgent autumn—a sort of spring revival six months delayed.

There are sharp regional differences. Some places have been rocked by the blow of cutback production and snowballing layoffs. Michigan, where unemployment is serious, lives by the faith that burns eternal there, faith in the power of new auto models to heal all hurts.

Others live on the momentum of the onward and upward surge. California is one example. With the aircraft and electronics industries booming, good times are taken for granted.

Look at the strong spots instead of the soft ones and the nation's economy rarely seemed healthier. The total dollar value of the nation's output of good and services is running close to a record 400 billion dollars a year. With a few important exceptions these goods and services are moving into consumption without a bobble.

Personal income is running around 317 billion dollars a year (and people are spending around 260 billions of it promptly.) Business is putting out around 62 billion, 35 billion of it for new plant and equipment. Federal, state and local government spending comes to 77 billion. Each category is above the last year spending rate.

Retail trade, with the exception of the auto and farm equipment and to some extent the appliance dealers, is mostly higher than a year ago.

Home building is down in unit volume but total expenditures are as high or higher than last year because more expensive houses are being built. A boom in commercial and industrial building is bringing the grand total for construction close to 45 billion dollars for the year, to top last year's 43 billion.

There are some big question marks for business in the weeks just ahead but confidence in the long pull seems unshaken.

3 Branch Banks Given Go-Ahead

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Department of Commerce has approved applications for the establishment of three branch banks at Knollwood.

Superintendent of Banks Paul Hinkle said the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Fairborn would establish one branch and the Union Savings and Trust Co. of Warren would establish two branches.

Air-Conditioning Shunned By Jury

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The grand jury, at the invitation of Chief Federal Judge George H. Moore, moved its session Tuesday into the judge's air-conditioned courtroom, which wasn't being used. Wednesday they moved back to their own non-air-conditioned quarters.

There is a no-smoking rule in the courtroom.

Ravenna Farm Unit Protests Dam Plan

RAVENNA (AP)—Portage County Farm Bureau trustees have asked the Public Works Committee of Congress to delay action on a proposed $14 million dam and reservoir of a Mahoning River branch near Wayland.

Their telegraphed request said that while the bill says the proposed reservoir is for flood control, the Farm Bureau contends it is to be used to benefit the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. and the city of Youngestown. The request also protested that 3,400 acres of Portage County property would be removed from the tax duplicate if the project is built.

WASHINGTON PARTIES

RESIGNATION OF Robert B. McLeaish from an administration post in the Department of Agriculture is accompanied by gossip about Saturnalian revels. It seems Washington, D. C., where the quaffing of liquor is alleged to be the highest per capita in the country, throws shindigs which even Hollywood might envy.

This is not surprising to those familiar with the way a man away from home is inclined to slough off his inhibitions. Washington is a sort of continuing convention city. It attracts thousands of citizens on business with their government. Many of these visitors enter heartily into Washington's festive atmosphere. Occasionally some of the top government personnel helps them along.

But that sort of thing cannot be permitted to go too far. While Washington jollity is bipartisan, a high official who flagrantly indulges is no less to be deplored than a five per cent influence boy. So an example has to be made lest folk get the idea that Washington is morally rotten.

It isn't, of course, any more than other towns. But officials who mingle with the play boys, lobbyists and other flingers of wild parties are monkeying with the buzz saw of public opinion.

One doctor says worry will make a person fat. So will potatoes and gravy.

Payments to children for digging dandelions ought to be tax-exempt like any out-of-the-ground severance income.

Karl Marx would still be able to hear the outcries of the masses if he returned today. They'd be yelling, "Fore!"

'PAY LATER' EDUCATION

THIS IS THE age of "Buy Now—Pay Later" and "Travel Now—Pay later" installment-plan living.

Now the treasurer of Princeton University, Ricardo A. Mestres, has proposed a "Study Now—Pay Later" plan. Mestres notes that tuition fees at the average private university cover only about half the real cost of educating a student.

So why not double the fees and device a plan to enable the student to pay off most of his tuition after he graduates? Under the Mestres plan a sort of General Education Acceptance Corporation would be set up to which the colleges would sell their tuition notes.

Then the corporation—and not the respective college treasurers—could carry out the task of collecting the monthly payments from the college alumni under the plan.

Mestres also proposes that students who enter "poorly paid but socially useful" professions would get discounts. Presumably this would be for teachers, ministers, social workers—although housewives and would-be poets and artists might also make claims.

All this sounds a trifle fantastic. But so did much of the installment buying everyone takes for granted 30 years ago.

SEASON OF DROWNINGS

THE SEASON OF drowning accidents seems to have set in with a vengeance. From all sections of the country come reports of deaths in the water. It is obvious that years of warnings against venturing into unguarded waters unless one is an accomplished swimmer and has taken all necessary precautions have gone for naught.

When an individual enters the water to swim, or takes to a private boat, he is largely dependent upon his own resources. The fact that most drownings are avoidable is proof that many persons take needless risks in the water.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The efforts that are being made to have Morton Sobell released remind me of an episode during the first year of the Russian Revolution. Big Bill Haywood was in jail in the United States and a group of Bolsheviks had decided that the best way to get Haywood freed quickly would be to kidnap the American Ambassador, David Francis, and then exchange prisoner for prisoner.

It was Trotzky who foiled the plot. In the first place, he put a tank with machine guns in front of the Embassy; then he told me and I told Francis.

It is certainly no crime for the friends of Morton Sobell to try to get him out of prison, provided they do it by due process of the law. Getting the aged Bertrand Russell or the existential Jean Paul Sartre to intervene is not due process. Their opinions may be interesting to their followers but cut no ice here.

Sobell's lawyers have appeared in court, before Judge Irving Kaufman, to plead that the verdict sentencing him to 30 years imprisonment be set aside on the ground that his constitutional rights had been violated.

This contradicts the statement of his lawyer, E. H. Bloch, at the time of his trial. As I read Judge Kaufman's decision, no claim is made that Sobell is innocent of having conspired with Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, and with Harry Gold, David Greenglass, Klaus Fuchs and others to steal the atom bomb from the Manhattan Project at Los Alamos.

In one form or another, the Rosenberg-Sobell cases have appeared before the United States Court of Appeals six times and before the United States Supreme Court six times and the conviction has remained undisturbed.

Judge Kaufman makes this important point which apparently neither Bertrand Russell nor Jean Paul Sartre, who have intervened, recognize:

"It is difficult to find a case in the history of American jurisprudence, or indeed in the judicial annals of any other country, where the defendants' convictions and contentions have received the attention of so many judges at so many levels of a judicial system, as well as that of the President of the United States on applications for executive clemency. Not a single legal recourse has been or will be denied to Sobell."

Sobell's lawyers aver that Sobell was kidnapped from Mexico by agents of the Mexican Secret Police "who were acting under the orders of the FBI, and that he was thus forcibly and illegally returned to the United States against his will. . .'

Sobell's contention is that he would have returned willingly and that it was improper for the Mexican government to deport him and that actually such "kidnapping violated a treaty between the United States and Mexico." The Government of the United States denies the alleged kidnapping.

Sobell tells a harrowing tale of having been beaten by the Mexican police until he was unconscious. It is to be pointed out that Sobell did not claim the benefit of these facts until five days after his conviction. Judge Jerome Frank, who heard his first appeal, said:

"Sobell waived his right to challenge personal jurisdiction in this trial. . .He made no move to bring to light the facts of his alleged abduction. He preferred to take his chances on the verdict, withholding his trump card until the trial was over. The Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure allow no such tactic."

Sobell's lawyers produced no new evidence of his guiltlessness; they only claim that the original court in which the trial occurred lacked jurisdiction. To this Judge Kaufman replies:

CHAPTER 17

"YOU TOLD Mr. Todd you'd give him your answer Saturday, Priscilla. That's three days away. If you want any of this old stuff, you'd better be making up your mind."

"Well, there haven't been any other offers. And Mr. Todd probably thinks I'm weak-minded because I haven't told him to go ahead and close with Alvarez. I might as well, but somehow, Rita, I have a queer feeling that I'd like to hold onto it for awhile."

"And pay taxes on an empty house? You've let all those old tales of hidden treasure influence you subconsciously, Priscilla. At first, I advocated holding off, thinking that if Alvarez wanted to rush it through so quickly he might have some inside track about the value, but since no other offer has come along, I guess you might as well go ahead with it. Especially since Alvarez is willing to take the antiques and you won't have to peddle them around."

"I won't pretend I want to keep anything through sentiment, of course. I never knew Aunt Rachel. But there are some figurines and vases I'd like to have. And some of the silver. There are some really good pieces, particularly the goblets."

"And those crocheted bedspreads are heirlooms—" Rita broke off, startled. "What was that?"

"Sounded like a door closed."

"And footsteps coming down the stairs."

"But we've just come from upstairs. Is there a basement?"

"I've seen no door to any basement. But I distinctly heard a door close and I heard footsteps."

"Rita, do you suppose it's safe for us to be over here? It's so early in the morning—not yet six. If a tramp happens to sleep here, perhaps we disturbed him."

"But how does he get in, and out?"

They had awakened early, and after a cup of coffee, had decided they would come over to Lookout House and see what Priscilla would like to keep.

Rita didn't think it was a good idea for Priscilla to stay in Apalachicola any longer. It was obvious that she liked Dr. Devereaux and it was just as obvious where his interest lay. Bill had said last night that the doctor and Pete were rushing Priscilla to make Peggy jealous.

Her mind swerved back to what Priscilla had said. "No tramp sleeps here. The doors are locked and you couldn't raise one of these windows. If that was really a door closing, there must have been a draft."

"But what caused the draft? And I saw that light flash again last night."

Rita said lightly, "Well, remember the house is haunted. Might be we've disturbed the ghosts. Frankly, I'm more interested in your disposing of the place than I am in the ghosts."

"I'm having fun." There was wistfulness in Priscilla's voice. "I feel bad about leaving. The people here are so easygoing. That Pete Craig is almost as much fun as Dick, or more fun really—but not quite so interesting."

"You mean you prefer the doctor?"

"I suppose so. Of course I have no delusions. I know they're both in love with Peggy Pomeroy . . . Pete and I were dancing last night when she and Dick came in. They didn't stay long—I think Dick got a call. She was more friendly than she was the other time, but she seemed surprised seeing me there with Pete."

"Go on having fun while you're here but don't get to liking either of those lads," Rita cautioned.

"Pete asked me to go to the party on the Silver Song with him. It was nice of Mr. Alvarez to ask us."

"What else could he do? When he met us down there in Mr. Todd's office and they started talking about it, he probably felt that he should. You'll remember he said he knew few people here. I wonder why he's going to the trouble to have a big party?"

"To create good will, I suppose. If he's going to have business interests here, he probably thinks it will be a diplomatic gesture. Pete said he'd be glad to have you go with us, if you didn't want to go with Bill."

"I don't mind going with Bill," Rita said. "He rather intrigues me. It is so apparent that I have him guessing. He seems to be looking for someone and he hasn't quite decided whether I'm the one. It's fun, being mysterious. I do believe, though, that you should let it be known why you're here."

"They'll wonder why I didn't tell them in the beginning."

"You should have, I suppose. I take the responsibility for that mistake. I thought we would be here such a short while it wouldn't matter."

"Let it take care of itself," Priscilla said. "I can say something to Pete or Dick about wishing I could stay around to see who wins out with Peggy, but now that I've found a purchaser for my property we'll be on our way. I'd like to come back here someday, wouldn't you?"

"This place grows on one," Rita admitted. "There's real charm about it. But I would never be satisfied in a small town. Let's lock up and go back and get breakfast. We can come over later and put all these things together."

They were fastening the lock at the gate when Bill drove by. He slowed to a stop and said pleasantly, "It's mighty early for sight-seeing. I gather that's what you're doing?"

It's about the same time he came by yesterday, Rita thought. What is he looking for? Is he really watching us? It had been amusing at first; it wasn't any more. She said, "You, too, must like the early mornings."

Bill thought, She never answers questions. She counters with another. Now why the dickens are they prowling around that old house? Had they been inside, or were they just looking around on the outside? He wished he had been a little earlier.

"If you haven't had breakfast," he said, "how about coming with me?"

"Thanks, but we're having breakfast at the cottage this morning. The coffee's already made. Come over and eat with us." Rita's voice was friendly.

Involuntarily Bill's glance went from Rita to Priscilla, who said, "Oh, I don't mind. Come along if you like."

Bill laughed. "That invitation doesn't sound very cordial, but I'm coming anyway."

When they were seated at the table in the breakfast nook, he said casually, "Going to the party on the Silver Song?"

"We've been invited."

"I'd like to have you both go with me. Or if Peggy Pomeroy can spare one of her faithful attendants, maybe we can make it a foursome."

Priscilla said, "Peggy is going to spare one of her faithful attendants. Pete is taking me to the party."

"Then it's settled. I'm taking Rita—if she'll go with me. Will you, Rita?"

Rita said she would be glad to go with him. Even though Bill Duval was being attentive for a purpose, he was good company. And after all, what difference did it make?

They Limbo Fat Into Limbo

By HAL BOYLE

TRINIDAD, B. W. I. (AP)—The natives here have got a sure cure for excess weight. They just limbo it away.

The limbo should soon be sweeping the United States. I'll guarantee that any girl who practices the limbo for six weeks will have a wasteline as supple as a fishing worm. Either that or she'll be in the hospital with a mystified doctor murmuring, "Madam, how did you ever get yourself tied up like a pretzel?"

What is the limbo? It is an ancient African dance resembling the high jump. But instead of leaping over the crossbar, you dance under it, each time lowering the crossbar nearer to the floor. You wear nothing but a swim suit and dance barefooted.

Sound simple? Try it. As the bar gets lower and lower, the dancer has to spreadeagle his legs farther apart as he shuffles forward, his delicately balanced body and head bent backward like a weaving cobra.

The dance puts a tortuous strain on leg, stomach and back muscles.

"The limbo is an old folk dance that came over with the slaves, probably in the 17th century," said Charles S. Espinet, local newspaper editor who is an authority on island customs. "No one knows the origin of the name."

In 1944 Edric Connor, a Trinidad-born singer and stage and screen star, revived the dance. Soon it became a popular diversion among society figures here.

American airmen even adopted it as a physical training exercise and it is now being boomed as a tourist attraction.

There are perhaps a hundred professional limbo dancers in the West Indies, of whom a dozen are rated as first class.

The record is held by a woman, Ruth Henry of Antigua, who danced under a crossbar only 8 inches from the floor. The most famous limbo artist, however, is "Stretch" Wilcox, who is six feet three and has gone under a bar at 10 inches. He has the widest following because he mixes comedy with his gyrations.

Porter-Pettit Nuptials Read In Presbyterian Church

Bride Wears Lovely Silk And Lace Gown

Miss Marilyn Ruth Porter was united in marriage to Thomas Edwin Pettit, Lieutenant J. G. of US Navy by the Rev. Donald Mitchell.

The ceremony was performed in Presbyterian Church before an altar decorated with tall vases of white gladiolas and huckleberry foliage.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. E. Porter of Circleville Route 4 and the late Mr. Porter. Lt. Pettit is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pettit of 481 Pickaway St.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her brother Mr. Robert Dean Porter, wore a white waltz-length gown of silk mist, designed with short sleeves and a portrait neckline, outlined in handrun Alencon lace. The princess line gown had a wide flounce of box pleating with Alenson lace at the top. Her openwork lace half hat was strewn with seed pearls and held a fingertip veil of imported silk English illusion. She carried a bouquet of white and pink stephanotus centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Robert Porter, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a waltz-length gown of nile green crystalette. Pleated crystalette formed an insert in the very full skirt and was repeated in the deep V neckline.

Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Driscoll and Miss Janet Schultz, both of Cincinnati and sorority sisters of the bride. They wore coral dresses fashioned identical to the matron of honor's.

The attendants flowers were cascades of nile green and coral carnations.

Mr. Myron Pettit of Columbus served as best man for his brother and ushers were Mr. Frank Feraco of New Jersey and Mr. Robert Ferguson of Circleville.

Mrs. Theodore Huston presented a half hour of organ music and Mrs. Myron Pettit of Columbus sang "The Pledge," "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother, Mrs. Porter, wore a dior blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Pettit, the groom's mother, chose a blue and white print dress with blue accessories and a red rose corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the social rooms of the church.

For the couple's wedding trip through the eastern part of the states, the new Mrs. Pettit wore a blue linen sheath dress with black patent leather accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The former Miss Porter is a graduate of Pickaway Township High School and Ohio University, where she became a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. She is employed in the personnel department of Albers-Colonial stores.

Lt. Pettit was graduated from Circleville High School and the United States Academy of Annapolis, Md., and is presently the executive officer of the USS Detector (MSO 429) at Charleston, S. C.

After July 1 Lt. and Mrs. Pettit will reside at 110 Savannah Highway, Charleston, S. C.

Canned Meats Handy To Prepare For Main Dishes

Ready for service the year round but especially welcome in warm weather is a well-stocked shelf of canned meats. They are handy for picnics, of course, but they can also be used for main dishes and substatial salads for Summer meals. For example, a jellied meat dish and a platter of good potato salad is a favorite Summer special.

For six servings of the jellied meat recipe, soften an envelope of plain gelatine in ½ cup cold water. Put over boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved.

Stir in ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon Tabasco and cool.

Stir gelatine mixture into ¾ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, blend in 2 (2¼ oz) cans deviled ham. Mix in 1½ teaspoon grated onion, ½ cup finely diced celery, ¼ cup finely diced green pepper, ¼ cup diced pimiento and 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped.

Turn into six molds or a 3-cup mold. Chill until firm.

Unmold. Garnish with tomato wedges.

Following benediction refreshments were served by Mrs. Clarence Finch and daughter, Mrs. Clark Dennis and Mrs. Paul Moore.

The hostesses for the July meeting will be Mrs. John O'Day, Mrs. John Claridge and Freda.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband's snoring is the problem. It seems to be a laughing matter to others, but to me it is very serious and has caused me much worry and many sleepless nights.

We have been married 14 years and in recent years Fred's snoring has kept me so wakeful that I have to move to another bed to get the necessary sleep and rest. He resents this, and I know it is hard for him to understand why I can't sleep through his snoring when it didn't keep me awake during the first 10 years of our marriage.

Fred took a travelling job a few years ago, and was away from home from Monday through Friday. Then, as I got used to sleeping alone, his snoring during the nights he was home would keep me awake; and, as I am very nervous, it was a most annoying experience, which made me tired and irritable.

Is there any kind of medical treatment to prevent snoring? I have tried taking sleeping pills to carry me through the night despite Fred's snoring, but I find that I don't get relaxed restful sleep after taking sedatives.

I love my husband very much, but this seemingly unimportant matter has caused me so much distress that if I can't find a solution, it will ruin our marriage. Now that I am older, my nervous condition seems to get worse for lack of sleep and rest.

F.S.

DEAR F.S.: When I asked a doctor "Is there a cure for snoring?" he said "Snoring is almost entirely a result of sleeping on your back. In that position, when the muscles relax, the tongue drops back into the throat and causes a partial obstruction in breathing — which produces the guttural sounds of snoring."

So the cure, he remarks, is to get in the habit of sleeping in some other position.

However, it seems to the doctor and me that there is more to the problem than your husband's snoring. There appears to be a grave and hidden rift in the marriage—of which your fixed irritation about the snoring is only a symptom.

In substance, your attitude amounts to rejecting your husband entirely as a bed fellow, using his snoring as an alibi for your recent evasion of conjugal closeness.

It is significant that your impatience with Fred's snoring took hold after he became a travelling man, away from home Mondays through Fridays every week. On the surface this looks as though you simply got used to doing without him, and enjoying better conditions of rest during his absence —so that his presence nowadays seems an ordeal, comparatively.

Your anger focussed on his snoring, which didn't bother you years ago, may be, unconsciously, the resentful reaction of a wife who feels slighted.

The burning quality of your unrest, and feeling that the marriage is at stake, suggests that you ought to get specialist help, in discovering the real nature of your quarrel with Fred. That's a necessary first step towards healing the rift at its roots.

M.H.

Libel Suits Filed In Union Election

CLEVELAND (AP)—Libel suits for $100,000 each were filed here Wednesday by Howard R. Schwartz of Rittman, incumbent president of the United Auto Workers local at the Chevrolet plant, and William L. Wood of suburban Brooklyn, incumbent shop committee chairmen.

Defendants were Albert Hlavin, who ran against Schwartz for president in an election June 12, and nine other candidates on Hlavin's slate of officers. Results of the election have not yet been announced.

An attorney for the plaintiffs said it had been "insinuated my clients were Communists."

Sokolsky's

These Days

Sobell's second claim is that false evidence was introduced in his trial. Judge Kaufman analyzes all the evidence and establishes that no perjured evidence was introduced nor was any evidence supressed. This decision runs 48 pages and covers a lot of territory.

The judge holds that "This petition is so entirely devoid of merit that perhaps it has been unduly dignified by the minute consideration and analysis it has received in this opinion. However, an effort has been made to lay to rest with finality baseless contentions and accusations which have been repeated not primarily to aid the petitioner but rather to embarrass and injure our courts and country."

Possible Steel Strike Holds Varied Trouble For Industry

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The approach of the steel contract deadline raised a big question today: what would be the effect on other U.S. industries if a steel strike developed Saturday midnight?

For some, like autos and home appliances, a short strike would require only minor adjustments, an Associated Press survey shows.

Other, like the oil and building construction industries, already are working with scant steel inventories. They would be affected almost immediately by a steel stoppage.

Steelmen feel many customers began as early as last January to build up reserve supplies. Customers were fully aware of strike possibilities as well as inevitable increases in the price of steel.

Best available estimates are that a 30-to-60 day supply of steel of all kinds is on hand somewhere between the mills and the finished products. But this total tonnage estimate does not reflect the fact there is a critical shortage of some steel items now, and a possible surplus of others.

The canning industry, for one, says it has been preparing for the possibility of a steel strike. A spokesman for Continental Can Co. said: "If there is a steel strike, we'll be able to take care of all the needs of our customers for at least eight weeks."

From the heart of the Southwestern oil producing country, though, comes words that just the possibility of a strike already is curtailing new well starts and deep well drilling. Oil men must have equipment on hand when they begin drilling.

Steel producers, studying the urgency of order demands say that both the oil and construction industries are operating hand to mouth on available steel supplies. Both would be pinched by even a short strike. Any curtailment of construction would mean immediate unemployment for thousands of workers.

A steel strike would throw a double-barreled jolt at the nation's railroads. The immediate effect would be a drop in freight traffic in finished steel and raw materials. The other would be further delay in building needed freight cars.

Steelmen feel the auto industry, which has cut production below the record pace of last year and has canceled some steel orders, would have enough steel on hand to complete production of 1956 models.

The auto industry does not begin ordering steel for new model cars until mid-August.

Also farm equipment buying has passed its peak for the year and little difficulty would be expected in that field.

The 350,000 miners who dig coal for the steel mills will be on vacation when the strike deadline comes. But an extended steel strike could mean many miners would have to join the 650,000 idle steelworkers.

Steel producers also feel that a strike would push them back into the same predicament they were in last year when the industry was unable to meet customer demands, let alone get the steel out on time.

The steel industry produced a record 117 million tons in 1955 and has been slightly ahead of that pace so far this year.

Ohio Leader Named Vote Study Chief

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio's secretary of state, Ted W. Brown, has been named chairman of a national committee to study the use of voting machines.

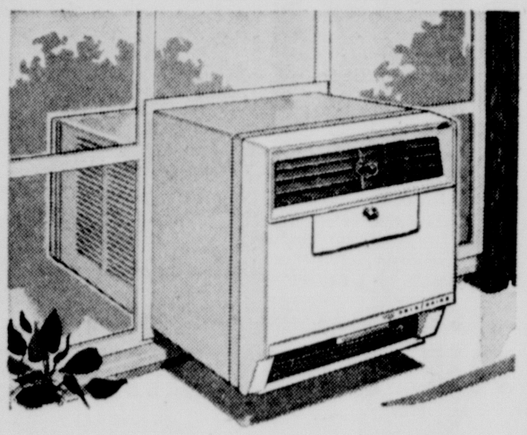

The appointment was made by Mississippi Secretary of State Heber Ladner, president of the National Assn. of Secretaries of State.

Ladner said: "With mechanical voting becoming so prevalent in many parts of the country, this study should be made in order that the benefits of such a system may be made available to the states not now using voting machines."

'Heat-Stricken' Cases Can Vary In Symptoms And Treatment

Exhaustion, Stroke, Cramps All Different

Even Those Trained In First Aid Can Confuse The Three

What would YOU do if a person standing in front of you suddenly toppled to the ground, stricken with the heat?

In Circleville and almost any other community, the answers to that question—aimed at the average person — would range from ridiculous ideas to accurate knowledge of the best possible first aid. This is partly because most people, even when they have had the benefit of first aid training, often forget the rules they have read or heard — and partly because attacks due to the heat vary considerably in cause and treatment.

For that reason, the Pickaway County Health Department was asked to provide information for an article on the subject of heat-caused physical distress. The following article by Paul Smallwood, Herald staff writer, was made possible through that assistance.

The term "stricken with the heat" normally covers three categories: heat stroke (sun stroke), heat exhaustion (prostration) and heat cramps.

Each category has its own particular symptoms and means of treatment.

It is not always necessary that an individual be exposed to the sun's rays to develop heat stroke. Clothing which prevents the escape of body heat, excessive humidity, fatigue, particularly in the absence of a current of air, all increase the danger of being stricken.

Symptoms of this injury include headache, dizziness and nausea, and the victim may appear flushed, or have a bluish color about the face and lips. Body temperature in such cases is above normal, and the skin is hot and dry.

* * *

FOR treatment of mild heat stroke cases, wrap the victim in a wet sheet and expose to cold drafts of air, as from a fan.

In more severe cases, apply ice to the temples and the back of the neck and place the stricken person in a cool bath for 20 minutes, at the same time rubbing the limbs and trunk to stimulate circulation.

Heat exhaustion is a form of shock resulting from exposure to heat and occurs more frequently when the humidity is high. It is a serious condition requiring prompt treatment.

Symptoms of this type of heat distress are those of shock: face pale, cold, clammy sweat, weak and rapid pulse, and slow respiration.

It is important to remember that treatment for this condition is exactly opposite that of heat or sun stroke, in that the victim must be kept warm.

A helpful bystander could assist a stricken person by applying first aid measures as follow:

1. LAY the victim flat with head low and feet raised.
2. Put blankets and wraps under and over the body.
3. Keep moderately warm with hot water bottles, but do not burn.
4. Give warm and sweetened drinks, but not if the person is unconscious.
5. Get a doctor without delay.

Persons exposed to intense heat or doing manual labor lose large amounts of salt in their perspiration, and as the salt is depleted, muscular cramps may develop.

Symptoms of this affliction are spasmodic cramps of the muscles of the abdomen and limbs.

The best treatment for heat cramps consists of warm baths, rest, and liquid drinks to which salt has been added. If the cramps are severe, or persist, a doctor should be called.

Royalty Involved In Rome Dope Raid

ROME (AP) — Police have filed narcotics charges against 21 persons, including four titled men prominent in Italian high society.

Those charged with using drugs were Prince Giuseppe Pepito Pignatelli, 25, well known about Rome but officially a resident of Mexico City; Duke Lodovico Lante della Rovere, 25, a member of the same ancestral famiy as 16th century Pope Julius II; Marquis Emanuele de Seta, 36, Sicilian aristocrat; Duke Augusto Torlonia, 32, scion of one of Italy's wealthiest families.

Federal Officials Changing Rules On Video Assignments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today charted the course of U.S. television toward possible exclusive operation on the ultra high frequency (UHF) channels, numbered 14 through 83.

The shift could change the face of telecasting a decade hence.

A commission announcement that it will consider the possibility of eventually putting all or most of TV on UHF involved an admission that mixing the newer UHF channels with the older VHF channels, numbered 2 through 13, in the same community hasn't worked out as expected.

As an immediate curative for that, the commission committed itself to a policy of "demixing" such communities, where feasible, in order to equalize station competition and give UHF operators a chance to survive where they have not been surviving when confronted with VHF competitors.

The proposed general shift to UHF is a long-term proposal, involving at least a couple more years of FCC consideration and, if finally approved, a minimum of 10 years of transition in which VHF stations might be required to telecast simultaneously on a UHF channel, while the public was changing over to UHF receivers.

The commission said the transition period would have to be sufficiently long "to cover the useful life of VHF-only receivers in the hands of the public" and permit amortization of VHF transmitting equipment.

FCC suggested the shift could be made on a nationwide basis, or by making states east of the Mississippi River all-UHF, leaving use of the wider-range VHF operation to the West's big open spaces.

Commercial television was launched on VHF in 1941. The 70 new UHF channels were not created until 1952. The result; of 500 TV outlets now operating, 400 are VHF; of 37 million TV sets in the hands of the public, some 30 million can tune in VHF programs only.

In the cities where the channels were intermixed, most UHF operators have found the going difficult. Many have closed down.

Fremont Tax Foes Halting Campaign

FREMONT (AP) — A referendum move against the city's income tax has collapsed and Mayor John M. Collins re-hired policemen and firemen he had layed off for economy.

James Marinis, John Love and Clyde Tittle, sponsors of the referendum which would have prevented collection of a one-half per cent income tax, withdrew their petitions bearing 735 names.

City Council voted the tax, expected to produce between $250,000 and $300,000 a year, but the referendum petitions would have stopped collection temporarily.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Many corner grocers and big supermarkets this weekend offer hams and chickens at special prices, appealing to the housewife shopping for the Fourth of July holiday.

Both meats are hot weather favorites, since they can be served cold as well as hot and are popular for picnics and summer outings.

The decline in wholesale prices of pork and lamb in recent weeks is now refected in lower retail prices for these two meats in many sections. Some areas also report lower beef prices.

The beef, pork and lamb wholesale market was generally firm this week and in some areas prices recovered almost as much as they had lost in the past few weeks. Unless there is renewed price weakness, an increase in retail prices can be expected.

Coffee-drinking became more expensive this week when a number of big grocery chains raised prices three to four cents a pound.

Vegetables from local farms in practically all sections of the country are bringing prices down. Cabbage, lettuce, radishes and green onions are generally outstanding buys.

Among good buys are beans, escarole, cucumbers and peas from local growers. Asparagus is also generally moderately priced, although the crop is about over in most sections and much that comes to market now is from storage. Carrots are also listed as a good buy by government produce experts. Potato prices remain relatively high.

Grazing Cow Holds Secret?

Safeguards On Radiation Seen In Sea, Air, Plants

(Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of two articles dealing with radiation, a by-product of the atomic age.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—English cows have eaten grass sprinkled with radioactive elements released in atom bomb tests in faraway Nevada.

While stressing that such a radioactive menu—not restricted to cows in Britain alone—is far from being at any danger point at this time, the National Academy of Sciences mentions it to emphasize this point:

The sea, the air and pants and animals hold the answers to some of the still-unsolved radiation safety problems.

"We had better be ready with the answers," the academy adds.

So far, says this group of eminent scientists, only relatively small amounts of radiation have been released. And, on the whole, it says, things have gone well from the safety standpoint — both in controling release and applying protection measures.

But the academy says time is running out for obtaining new knowledge to assure maximum protection against increased hazards expected in the next two decades as atomic power plants spring up.

It also mentioned the "continuance" of H-bomb tests, but offered no estimates of how long they would go on.

The job of coming up with answers calls for the combined efforts of weathermen, oceanographers, agricultural scientists and experts in the disposal of radioactive wastes, the academy says.

The academy, in its recent report on hazards inherent in radiation of any kind, listed radiation from atomic bomb tests, nuclear power plants, medical Xrays, and from naturally radioactive materials in the ground and atmosphere.

Elsewhere in its report, the academy said there is a need for greater technical improvements to assure against serious—and conceivably even catastrophic — accidental releases of radioactivity from atomic reactors. Present reactor safeguards have had a very fine record, but protective measures could stand improvement, the report said.

Concerning radiation once released — whether from reactors, reactor waste or "garbage," or from bomb tests — the academy said this:

Between the potential sources of man-made radiation and the people of the world there's a vast complex "connecting network" of air, water, and the plant and animal life which form the links in the chain of our food supply.

In stressing the need for more research on the workings of the radiation-bearing "network," the academy said:

"We must know more about how the winds or the ocean currents move, how plants and animals may concentrate radioactivity and transport it from one place to another.

Aeronca, Union Sign New Contract

MIDDLETOWN (AP) — Aeronca Manufacturing Corp. has signed a new contract with the United Auto Workers calling for wage increase of 17 cents an hour.

The contract, for two years, covers approximately 1,800 workers in Middletown and Miamitown, it was said.

The present wage scale for UAW employes ranges from $1.65 to $2.74 an hour.

Ex-Bank Teller Arrested By FBI

PAINESVILLE (AP) — Charged with embezzling Mrs. Eleanor T. Fussner, 32, a former teller at the Cleveland Trust Co. branch here, has been arrested by FBI agents.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Loren E. Van Brocklin said an FBI audit showed a shortage of $10,317 in her accounts over four years, although the charge was on the specific theft of $450.

Pravda Reprints Critical Article

MOSCOW (AP)— Pravda has reprinted an article demanding to know what the present Soviet leaders did, if anything, to stop the excesses of the last years of Stalin's rule.

The organ of the Communist party reprinted an article which Eugene Dennis wrote for the New York Daily Worker asking the question.

It was the first time the current leadership has been publicly criticized here, even by implication, and marks a radical shift in the traditional Soviet attitude.

Toy Station Wagon Too Attractive For Little Boy, 5

ST. LOUIS (AP)—There was a toy station wagon in the window of a juvenile department store and a 5-year-old boy outside.

The lad, who "wanted to see how it would run," was tempted. He found an iron rod and smashed a hole in the window Wednesday night, squirmed through unharmed.

Police found the boy happily sitting in the station wagon inside the store but they couldn't get to him. The hole in the window was too small.

They called the manager, who opened the door. The boy was released to the custody of his parents.

Trapped Man Dies In Reefer Truck

BALTIMORE (AP)—A short time after a refrigerated truck left a plant here for Wilmington, Del., employes noticed that a maintenance man was missing.

State police were asked to check the truck. It was intercepted just across the state line in Delaware.

Locked in the refrigerated compartment officers found Thomas Hock, 34—dead.

Police said he had made a terrific struggle to get out. He had torn a foot-wide hole through plywood sheathing and insulation of the door, but he had been unable to pierce the metal outer shell.

It was not immediately determined whether he had suffocated or frozen. He was the father of three children.

2 Youngsters Die In Home Freezer

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Jenkins returned home from work Wednesday and found her two children suffocated in a home freezer. Neighbors said Mrs. Jenkins had cleaned the freezer and left the lid up to air it out. The children, Sandra, 8, and Gregory, 6, apparently climbed in and one of them let the lid fall shut, police said.

Bounce Counts In Hot National Loop Scramble

Long Victory Streak Of Braves Failing To Keep Them Safe Ahead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It isn't how long a winning streak that counts in the major league pennant races this season — it's how fast you can bounce back from defeat.

Take that madcap National League scramble. Milwaukee's Braves had run up 11 straight successes before being jolted by Philadelphia. Then the Phils laid the wood to 'em again Wednesday night, 4-3 in 11 innings, and for all their hustle the Braves have no more than a half-game hold on first place.

Cincinnati lies just 12 percentage points back after routing Pittsburgh 10-2. And if the Redlegs, who have won five of their last six games, can do it again tonight while the Braves are idle, they'll grab back the NL lead.

Brooklyn's Dodgers closed to within 1½ games of Milwaukee by beating Chicago 6-2. That gave the Brooks a sweep of the three-game set with the Cubs after a double-header loss to Cincinnati Sunday.

In the other NL game, St.Louis walloped New York 6-0 with three home runs and Tom Poholsky's five-hitter.

In the American League, the New York Yankees whipped Kansas City and strengthened their lead to 2½ games as the Chicago White Sox were beaten 11-9 by Boston after winning nine in a row. The White Sox, who swept four from the Yanks for New York's only losses on the just-ended Western trip, picked up only three games.

Cleveland's Indians made it eight straight victories since the Yankees left town by overcoming an eight-run Baltimore lead to bop the Orioles 12-11 in 11 innings. And Detroit's Tigers staggered through their 11th start without victory, losing to Washington 3-1.

Willie Jones, Andy Seminick and Stan Lopata homered for the Phils. Lopata's No. 14 shot clearing the left field stands to break a 3-all tie gained by Philadelphia on a double by Jim Greengrass in the ninth. Johnny Logan and Hank Aaron homered for the Braves. Negray won his first and Ernie Johnson lost his second, both in relief.

Gus Bell, Frank Robinson and Stan Palys each drove in two runs in a nine-run eighth inning that won for Cincinnati. The Redlegs used six hits and four Buc errors to overcome a 2-1 Pirate lead and hand Bob Friend his fifth defeat. Danny Kravitz homered and hit a sacrifice fly for the Pirates, who have lost 10 of 11.

Four runs in the fourth, pushed along by two Cub errors, won for Brooklyn in a game delayed almost 2½ hours by rain. Roger Craig was the winner, Warren Hacker the loser.

Ken Boyer hit two of the Card homers and drove in three runs to take the NL home run lead with 19 and the RBI top spot with 57. Johnny Antonelli lost his seventh. Poholsky, now 5-5, walked but one and hit a two-run double.

A sacrifice fly by Billy Martin after a triple by Tom Sturdivant who won his fifth, broke a 2-all tie for the Yanks in the fifth inning. Hank Bauer put it away with his 16th homer in the eighth off loser Art Ditmar. Mickey Mantle singled ahead of Bauer's homer for his only hit in three trips.

Boston blew a 7-0 lead, then came on with three in the eighth for the White Sox's second defeat in a 14-game home stand. Ted Williams was 4-for-5 while Jimmy Piersall and Billy Klaus each had three RBIs for the Red Sox. Dave Philley drove in four for the Chisox, who used seven pitchers. Millard Howell lost it. Ike DeLock won it, in relief.

The Indians finally topped the Orioles in Chico Carrasquel's fifth hit, a single that scored Al Rosen. That pair had nine of Cleveland's 17 hits. Don Mossi, Cleveland's sixth pitcher, won it while Hec Brown lost his first for a 4-1 mark.

Pete Runnels, who homered, and Roy Sievers each had two hits—half of Washington's total off loser Frank Lary and Duke Masa.

Chestnut Scores Surprise Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ike Chestnut and his walloping right hand were steaming today for another crack at a ranking featherweight.

Chestnut, the unrated underdog, stopped fourth-ranking Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn here last night on a TKO in 29 seconds of the eighth round in a scheduled 10.

"I'm ready for anybody they give me," Chestnut said.

"And that includes Sandy Saddler," added beaming Manager Hymie Wallman.

Saddler is featherweight king.

Romping Reds Trip Pirates, Gain In Race

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cincinnati's romping Redlegs trounced the Pittsburgh Pirates 10-2 last night to move within half a game of the National League lead.

The league-leading Milwaukee Braves meanwhile bowed to Philadelphia 4-3.

The Pirates who came apart at the seams in the eighth inning, made a total of five errors and wound up with an infielder pitching. Johnny O'Brien pitched the ninth and didn't allow a hit.

For seven innings it was a tight pitching duel between Pittsburgh's Bob Friend and Cincinnati's Brooks Lawrence. The Pirates had a 2-1 lead when the eighth started.

Fourteen Redlegs batted in that inning. There were six singles, two of them by Wally Post, and four Pittsburgh errors as the Redlegs tallied nine times.

The Reds had the unusual situation of a pinch hitter batting for a pinch hitter. George Crowe batted for Lawrence to start the inning and fanned, but by the time he was due up again Pittsburgh had southpaw Louis Arroyo on the mound so Palys batted for Crowe and drove in two runs.

Danny Kravitz scored Pittsburgh's first run with a homer in the third. The Reds tied it up in the sixth on Bell's triple and Kluszewski's infield out, but Kravitz again put the Pirates ahead in the seventh with a sacrifice fly that scored Walls.

Tuesday night's postponed game will be played tonight with Johnny Klippstein due to pitch against George Munger.

Collegiate Golf Leaders Face Test

COLUMBUS (AP) — The 59th National Intercollegiate Golf Championship went into the marathon stage today.

Two rounds of 18-hole matches were due to cut the field to eight by nightfall. And, by day's end, either medalist Rex Baxter Jr., of Houston, or defending champion Joe Campbell of Purdue—perhaps both—will be sidelined.

If the two stalwarts survive the morning round, they'll tangle in the afternoon.

Carrasquel Shining Now For Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—Chico Carrasquel, hitting star of the Cleveland Indians' 12-11 comeback win over the Baltimore Orioles yesterday, was just tuning up for a five-game series with the Chicago White Sox starting tomorrow.

"Now that I start to hit, everything looks better," said the rangy shortstop who drove in the winning run in the 11th inning with the fifth hit of the day.

The hard won victory ran third-place Cleveland's winning streak to eight straight.

Carrasquel, obtained with Jim Busby from the White Sox for Larry Doby last winter, has a special reason for wanting to look good against his former teammates this weekend.

The games will be broadcast back to his native Venezuela, where he used to play side-by-side with Luis Aparicio, his replacement at Chicago. Aparicio has been getting most of the publicity in the homeland recently.

Three of Carrasquel's hits figured in the scoring yesterday. He singled and scored in the fourth, doubled and scored the tying run in the eighth, and singled in Al Rosen from second base with the winning run in the 11th.

July 4th Tire Sale

Buy Now Before the Tax

The U. S. Senate has approved a new excise tax to be levied on all passenger and highway type truck tires. The new tax, which will become effective July 1st, is to help defray the cost of our new national road building program. Total tax on tires will now range from about $5.00 to $35.00 a set, depending on tire size.
